Blair Defeats Schultz; Ludy, Fusselman In

Board Of Supervisors Will Have 2 New Members

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will have a new look next Jan. 1.

Absent from its ranks will be Vera L. Schultz of Mill Valley and James A. Marshall of Tomales, both defeated for re-election in yesterday's primaries. Replacing them will be J. Walter Blair, Mill Valley, owner of a chain of self-service laundries, and George H. Ludy, Inverness merchant.

The third incumbent who came up for re-election, veteran William D. Fusselman, who won over two rivals to be assured another four years on the board, of which he has been a member since 1942.

GEORGE H. LUDY
To represent West Marin

Greatly pleased at the result, Fusselman noted: "This is the first time I have won re-election in the primary except in 1944, when nobody ran against me."

The final tally — except for 1,170 absentee ballots, countywide, yet to be counted—was announced by County Clerk George S. Jones as follows:

Second District — Fusselman 7,195; Frederic D. Kerr 5,644; Harvey W. Killian 1,089.

Third District—Blair 6,783; Schultz 5,333.

Fourth District — Ludy 467; Marshall 419.

Incumbents Walter R. Castro of San Rafael and William Gnoss of Novato have two more years to serve on their present terms.

"ANTI-SPENDING"

Defeat of Marshall and Mrs. Schultz and re-election of Fusselman represented an "anti-spending" victory. All campaigned for holding down county expenses. All took slaps at Mrs. Schultz as an alleged advocate of needless expenditures. Blair tied his whole campaign to the theme, "cut taxes." Fusselman rapped Mrs. Schultz in defending his own "hold the line" record. Ludy accused Marshall of being influenced by the Mill Valley superivsor in voting for measures he claimed were costly.

Fate of the county administrator system may become doubtful as a result of the election. Fusselman opposed the the system. Blair attacked it during his campaign. Ludy called flatly for its abolishment.

Fusselman will also gain allies in his fight against the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed county civic cener, ground for which is now being graded in Santa Venetia. Blair declared it would be better to write off the money spent up to now on the civic center than to complete the project. Ludy said he was against th civic center con-

Marin Population Rises To 145,545

Marin County's population has increased 70 per cent since 1950 to a total of 145,545, James C. Hammons, census supervisor for the First Congressional District, reported today.

Hammons said the figure was a preliminary one but was not expected to increase very much when additional returns are received.

In 1950, Marin had a population of 85,619, and 10 years earlier there were 38,906 residents in the county.

Hammons said he had not yet received a tabulation of figures from Novato, but expected them soon. Novato incorporated as a city last January, and a special census in March showed a population of 17,942.

Here is the report of preliminary census figures for other Marin cities:

	1960	1950
Belvedere	2,128	800
Corte Madera	5,945	1,933
Larkspur	5,642	2,905
Fairfax	5,672	4,078
Mill Valley	10,342	7,331
San Rafael	20,293	13,848
Ross	2,537	2,179
San Anselmo	11,512	9,188
Sausalito	5,286	4,828

Belvedere's figure was 361 more than was reported in the special census of 1957.

Corte Madera's population outdistanced that of its neighbor Larkspur, so if merger talks come to a vote, it would be Corte Madera that becomes the consolidated city.

Corte Madera is happy with its new census figure, but Larkspur is not.

"We had estimated between 5,800 and 6,100," said Larkspur City Manager Ronald E. Piper. The city officials' guesstimate was based on per capita taxes and new construction figures, he said. A special census in 1956 gave Larkspur a population of only 3,805.

In Corte Madera, City Manager Arthur H. Brandow said the figures surpassed officials' expectations. "We were concerned that the federal census would not support the figure of 5,850 reached in March by the State Department of Finance," he said. A 1957 special census gave Corte Madera a population of 4,164.

Fairfax's figures was 1,044 more than was reported in a 1954 special census.

Mill Valley's population increased 908 over the special census held in 1957. The 10,342 preliminary figure was very close to the estimate given out in April this year by the State

McLain 'Protest' Vote Puts Nixon Over Brown

2 State Bond Issues Pass In Light Vote

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice President Nixon carried off the popularity laurels today in California's presidential primary, but Democratic Gov. Edmund Brown wasn't far behind.

Brown captured 162 half-vote Democratic delegates, defeating a rival slate pledged to pension promoter George H. McLain by better than two to one in Tuesday's balloting.

McLain, with about 30 per cent of the Democratic vote, interpreted his showing as a party slap at the governor. Brown said he was well satisfied.

Nixon, all by himself on the GOP ticket, outpolled Brown despite a 3-2 Democratic majority in the state. It wasn't a head-on test, however. Voters could mark only their own party ballots.

Latest returns:

Democratic—23,545 of 28,783 precincts; Brown 937,571, McLain 442,973.

Republican — 23,545 precincts: Nixon 1,027,406.

In the combined state primary—first since 1913 without cross-filing — the light turnout of voters:

1. Approved two bond issues —400 million dollars for the veterans home loan program and 300 million for school construction.

2. Nominated party candidates for 30 seats in Congress. In the hottest race, Alphonzo E. Bell, former GOP state chairman, apparently defeated Murray Chotiner, one-time Nixon campaign director, for the Republican nomination to succeed Rep. Donald L. Jackson who did not run.

Results of the presidential primary brought predictions of victory in November from both Republicans and Democrats.

Republican leaders whooped up Nixon's relatively high GOP vote, saying it pointed to a

Bagley Wins GOP Nod; Wilson, Matzen Race Awaits Absentee Vote

Republicans of the Seventh Assembly District made William T. Bagley of San Rafael their candidate for assemblyman in yesterday's primary; Democrats put San Rafael's Joseph G. Wilson and Petaluma's Everett A. Matzen into a photo finish, with the latter apparent winner.

Bagley, 32-year-old attorney, outpolled Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker in both counties of the district. The vote in Marin was 16,494 for Bagley to 3,769 for Shoemaker. In Sonoma, it was 9,399 for Bagley to 8,300 for Shoemaker. The total gave Bagley 25,893; Shoemaker, 12,069. About 2,000 absentee ballots in the two counties were yet to be tallied.

The Democratic race was a very different story. With counting of the absentees remaining, only 316 votes separated Matzen, the apparent winner, and Wilson. A third candidate, Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, was out of the running.

Wilson topped Matzen by 2,974 votes in Marin County, but lost to him by 3,290 in Sonoma. The total vote without the absentees gave Matzen 14,641; Wilson, 14,325. The absentee ballots—1,170 in Marin and 960 in Sonoma — are believed to be split roughly half-and-half between Democratic and Republican, so Matzen's margin appeared fairly safe but not certain.

2-TO-1 TRIUMPH

Bagley had the endorsement of organized Republicans; nevertheless his more than 2-to-1 triumph over Shoemaker was an outstanding demonstration of vote-getting ability. Shoemaker has long been a figure in public life in Sonoma County, yet was unable to outpoll the youthful Marinite there.

Bagley showed his vote-getting ability two years ago, also, when he ran second high in a field of 17 candidates for the Marin County Board of Freeholders, being outpolled only by Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president.

Miller, Dupuis Vote Spread Narrows

Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera and Fred G. Dupuis of Tiburon yesterday won without opposition the Democratic and Republican nominations, respectively, for Miller's First District seat in Congress.

With substantially all of the 1,110 precincts of the district reporting, Miller polled 67,558 votes to 58,957 for Dupuis. The 8,389 difference between the two candidates is slightly smaller percentage-wise than the 18,287-vote margin by which Miller beat Dupuis in the general election of 1958, when Miller amassed 102,096 votes to 83,807 for Dupuis.

But Miller handily carried every county in the district with the exception of Marin, which went to Dupuis. Here is the county by county breakdown:

	Miller	Dupuis
Marin	16,583	19,256
Sonoma	17,856	16,030
Napa	9,150	5,832
Lake	2,232	1,979
Mendocino	6,826	5,552
Humboldt	12,629	8,935
Del Norte	2,282	1,373

With cross-filing eliminated, the Democratic ballots carried only Miller's name, and the Republican ballots, only that of Dupuis.

Novato Water Bonds Win By Wide Margin

A $3,790,000 bond issue proposed by the North Marin Water District won lopsided approval of voters yesterday, 1,624 to 215.

Very early precinct reports indicated "overwhelming support" of the issue which will mean Russian River water will be brought to Marin, Jerome Gilbert, district manager and chief engineer, said today. The outcome of the vote count was never in doubt. A two-thirds "yes" vote was needed for approval.

"We're going to do our best to get the water here as fast as possible," Gilbert said. Surveying for the aqueduct from Petaluma to Novato began last week in hopes of voter approval; designs for the entire project are under way. The bonds are expected to go up for bid early in the fall when construction will begin. Russian River water is expected in Novato a year from the start of construction, Gilbert said.

The bonds passed with the promise that the district would not raise its present 32-cent tax rate and would not raise water rates.

The bonds will be retired in 40 years using district income, district officials say. Funds will be used to construct the aqueduct from Petaluma to Novato, under an agreement with Sonoma County, which would fun-

Hospital Bond Issue Rejected By 1,000 Votes

A special $2,250,000 bond issue to provide new county hospital facilities in Lucas Valley failed to win the necessary two-thirds approval of the voters in yesterday's election.

The vote was 25,334 for the bond issue and 15,025 against it. The "yes" vote was more than 1,000 votes short of the two-thirds requirement for a bond issue.

FAILED IN 1958

The issue could be placed on the ballot again in November. In November, 1958, a bond issue to provide new hospital facilities also failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote.

The board of supervisors planned the new structure after considering the existing inadequate bed space and lack of space and facilities for rehabilitation treatment and the condemnation of the present building as structurally unsafe in the event of an earthquake.

A 175-bed structure was planned to meet needs through 1963-1965, expandable to 315 beds in the future. Plans and specifications prepared by the San Rafael architectural firm of Crawford and Banning were approved by the supervisors April 5.

ESTIMATED COST

The total estimated cost based on architects' final estimates was $2,250,000.

The county is required by law to provide bed and nursing care for indigent persons who because of illness or physical disability cannot properly care for themselves. It also is required to provide housing minimum care for indigent persons who because of age or infirmity are unable to care for themselves properly.

Highway Plans On Public Display

Maps and exhibits of the proposed widening of U.S. Highway 101 through San Rafael will be displayed in the cafeteria at San Rafael High School until 9 p.m. today.

McCarthy Polls Top Vote In Marin Races

State Senator John F. McCarthy piled up the largest vote total for any candidate in Marin County in his Republican nomination for re-election. But his attempt to win the Democratic nomination with a write-in vote, fell short of Democrat Charles Geller by 2,300 votes.

McCarthy amassed 20,662 votes on the Republican ticket, nearly 2,000 more than presidential candidate Richard Nixon and more than a thousand higher than congressional candidate Fred G. Dupuis.

In the Democratic voting, Geller polled 7,630 votes to 5,210 for McCarthy and 4,133 for painting contractor Max Miller. This eliminates Miller; McCarthy will face Geller in the November general election.

McCarthy said after the

Fluoridation Result Depends On Absentees

Whether Marin Municipal Water District will begin fluoridating its water supplies next winter remained in doubt today, with counting of absentee ballots in yesterday's election to determine whether fluoridation was approved or defeated.

By a narrow 132-vote margin the issue was rejected by voters who cast their ballots in person, but some 1,000 absentee voters in the district could swing the result either way.

The vote: yes, 18,482; no, 18,614.

County Clerk George S. Jones said he would start counting the absentee votes tomorrow. About 80 per cent of the absentee voted have been returned, Jones said. Others arriving by mail until next Monday will be counted as received.

The fluoridation proposal, most controversial issue on the ballot in most of the county, would add fluorides to the district's water to reduce tooth decay in today's children and future Marin generations.

If approved, automatic self-stopping machinery will be used to feed sodium silicofluride into the water, .8 of a part of fluoride per million parts of water.

The fluoridation issue produced hot arguments, both for and against, in Marin County.

The water district has estimated its maximum cost for fluoridation will be 18 cents per person per year to begin with, less after a few years.

Full B-70 Bomber Push Voted By Senate Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Military Appropriations Subcommittee voted today to provide for full development of the Air Force's 2,000-miles-an-hour B-70 bomber.

The subcommittee voted to add 285 million dollars to the giant defense money bill for the B-70 system. That raised to about 895 million dollars the total increases made by the subcommittee under the spur of the U2 incident and the summit collapse.

The B-70, with North American Aviation as prime contractor, is planned as a supersonic bomber for the Strategic Air Command.

Like the B-57, it could become the model for a new generation of commercial airliners.

Earlier this year, the administration cut back the B-70 program to a 75-million-dollar development effort for the coming year. The scaled-down program would have produced only two prototype B-70 planes at a later date than previously scheduled and without the weapons and flight components.

The action was disclosed by a senator who left the session while consideration of the bill was still in progress. He said there was "very little" opposition to the action.

The subcommittee was considering even further increases in defense spending—including a 3½-billion-dollar package.

Coast Guard Plans Safety Patrols

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Coast Guard said today it is establishing two special safety patrols for the summer boating and fishing season, at the mouth of Klamath River and at Suisun Bay.

The Klamath patrol, consisting of a motor surfboat, truck, trailer and crew, will be sent to that area about June 15. It will be quartered on the north side of the Klamath River entrance.

Marin Pilot Testifies In Ship Inquiry

A San Rafael bar pilot with 20 years experience testified yesterday at a Coast Guard inquiry in San Francisco that a combination of fog, wind, tide and poor acoustics caused the freighter India Bear to ram the Lime Point Lighthouse Friday night.

Robert W. Daly, 48, of 19 Watt avenue, was pilot on the vessel when she left an Alameda dock. The inquiry was continuing today.

According to testimony, Daly and the ship's skipper, Capt. Franklin D. Pierce, 39, discussed turning back to port after the ship ran into heavy fog past the Bay Bridge, but decided it would not be necessary.

An outbound course slightly north of the usual route was set to give three scheduled incoming vessels more room.

Fog and southerly wind apparently obscured the sound of the Lime Point foghorn. The pilot changed his course five degrees to the south, then five more, and in a few minutes Lime Point loomed ahead, about 500 to 570 feet away, he said.

The ship did not respond well to a "hard left, full speed ahead" order, apparently because she was lightly laden. The prow rammed the lighthouse lavatory, destroying it and causing about $60,000 damage to the ship.

The pilot and Captain Pierce both testified that on the way back to Alameda they discovered the radar was eight degrees off its readings. When the ship was aground, Daly had noticed the lighthouse did not appear on the radarscope. It was not known whether the jolt had affected the radar.

The captain testified the equipment had been overhauled by a radar technician before the ship sailed.

Earthquake Jars North Coast Area

EUREKA (UPI)—An earthquake jarred the Northern California coast last night—in the same general area where one occurred Sunday.

Two sharp bumps were felt here at 7:55 p.m., and a few jars toppled from store shelves in Rio Dell, 40 miles to the south. The jolts also were felt in Arcata, Ferndale and Fortuna.

Seismologist Don Tocher, at the University of California in Berkeley, said the quake lasted about four minutes and had an intensity of 3.75 on the Richter scale. It was centered in southern Humboldt County.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Sammy 'Abused'

LONDON (UPI)—Negro entertainer Samy Davis Jr. wept today over insults from British fascists who told him to "go home, nigger" at the end of his night club act.

The demonstrators met Davis last night outside the Pigalle, where he has a $12,000 a week engagement, and heaped abuse on him for his plans to marry Swedish actress Mai Britt, 24.

Pay Hike Won

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A food distribution strike that threatened Northern California failed to materialize as Teamsters and Warehousemen won a 21 cents an hour across the board wage boost late Tuesday afternoon.

Some 9,000 members of both unions will benefit immediately from the pact, negotiated with officials of the Distributors Assn. and the San Francisco Employers Council.

Wooing Labor

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI)—Sen. Stuart Symington planned to carry his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to Michigan labor leaders today despite indications that Sen. John F. Kennedy has already picked the cupboard pretty clean of votes.

Kennedy addressed the state AFL-CIO convention here yesterday and was literally mobbed by enthusiastic admirers. Today Symington was to make his pitch to the 700,000-member organization.

Insurance Buy-Out

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Aetna Life Insurance Co. today acquired the controlling interest in the Excelsior Life Insurance Co. of Toronto, Canada, for an estimated $5,250,000. The negotiation involved an immedate purchase of 55 per cent of outstanding stock of the Canada company, and another 15 per cent later.

Strikes Grow

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle conferred with his cabinet today on measures to combat a growing wave of strikes against government efforts to prevent wage increases.

A series of short strikes has hit public transportation, and the country's civil servants plan a 24-hour walkout Friday.

Exchanges Urged

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter called today for expanded exchange programs with Russia and other nations to open up "closed societies."

In a commencement address at the University of Pittsburgh, Herter urged a step up international exchange visits.

Suburbs Growing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Preliminary figures for 27 of the nation's larger population centers indicate that suburbs have been growing six times as fast as cities in the past 10 years.

Strike Deadlock

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Negotiations were deadlocked today in the crippling strike against the vital Atlas missile program as Convair—makers of Atlas—canceled all union membership clauses while vowing to continue economic benefits of its labor contract.

C. Z. Lindsay, chief negotiator for the International Assn. of Machinists, countered that the morale of workers "is still high."

Morse Asks Pay Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) has proposed a pay cut for Congress members—to a rate of 53 cents a hour. They now get $22,500 a year plus extras.

Morse said he was introducing the pay cut bill because the Senate Labor Committee hasn't approved a $1-an-hour minimum for laundry workers, thousands of whom are paid 53 cents an hour.

For Japan Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) voiced his full support today for Senate ratification of the new U. S.-Japan security treaty in advance of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said they are convinced Eisenhower will go to Tokyo June 19 unless the Japanese government asks a delay.

Wage Boost Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A presidential fact-finding board today recommended a five-cents a hour wage increase and improved health and welfare benefits for about 600,000 non-operating railroad workers. The fact-finding panel made its report to the president in an effort to avert a threatened strike by the off-train employees.

Philip Due

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prince Philip arrives here tomorrow on the eve of his 39th birthday to open the 15-million-dollar British exhibition, the most lavish display ever mounted by a foreign nation in the U. S.

He will fly from Toronto to be guests of honor at a white-tie dinner given by the Pilgrims of the U. S. A. and the English Speaking Union. Philip and Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the U.N., will address the guests.

Barn Dance Slated By Valley Group

It may be the last barn dance given by the San Geronimo Valley Assn.

The barn dance is to be held at 9 p.m., Saturday, in the old barn on the Ralph Roy ranch. But the ranch has been sold and the barn may be torn down, reported Mrs. Mary Furdas of Forest Knolls.

Hod dogs, sandwiches and coffee will be available at a snack bar and door prizes will be awarded announced Mrs. Furdas. Music will be provided by the Jack Barnes orchestra of Woodacre.

Ion-Powered Space Engine Model Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The civilian space agency yesterday ordered a test model of a small ion engine which could propel spaceships through the far reaches of the heavens once they had broken free of the earth's gravity.

The project was expected to take about a year, and cost more than $50,000.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration selected the Hughes Aircraft Co. of Culver City to build the experimental engine.

In contrast to the big fire-belching chemical boosters used to hurl heavy space vehicles into the sky, the ion engine would provide thrust by expelling a beam of ions—particles smaller than an atom.

This ion stream would flow at a terrific rate, reaching a speed of more than 100,000 miles an hour within just a few minutes. According to the laws of physics, this stream could propel a space ship once it was free of the earth's gravity.

OUTCOME UNCERTAIN—Everett A. Matzen (left) of Petaluma appeared today to be the Democratic nominee for the State Assembly from Marin and Sonoma Counties. But there was a bare possibility that count of absentee ballots might return Joseph G. Wilson (right) of San Rafael as the winner.

2 Annexation Foes, Namle Win Election

Terra Linda Community Service District voters yesterday returned John P. Namle to office as director for another term, and elected the two most ardent anti-annexationists in a field of six candidates to serve with him.

Total vote in the district (except for absentees) was announced by County Clerk George S. Jones as:

Namle 913; Jack Brandon 606; Dr. Michael J. Franzblau 545; W. Remington Hodgson 474; Richard H. Less 433; Harlette M. Wills Cheek 300.

Namle was chairman of the district board last year. He was appointed to a directorship in April, 1958, to succeed Gordon Attwood, who resigned.

Brandon was general manager of the district until he resigned to run for the board of directors. He has been strongly opposed to annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael, which would mean dissolution of the district. Before the community services district was formed, Brandon was active in the Terra Linda League, which promoted formation of the district. He is district manager for a woman's apparel firm in San Francisco.

Franzblau, a physician, has been equally as adamant as Brandon against annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael. He has not previously been active in affairs of the community services district.

$400 Diamond Ring Reported Missing

A $430 diamond ring is missing from a Greenbrae home, the owner reported to the sheriff last night.

Albert E. Davis, office manager who lives at 110 Bretano Way, said someone must have entered the home through his garage on Sunday. The ring and a bottle of whiskey are missing.

ney and former San Rafael city councilman, ran for the Democratic nomination with endorsement of the California Democratic Council. Matzen revolted against "machine selection" of a candidate. Most of his campaign was done in Sonoma County.

Matzen, 42, is business agent of Butchers Union Local 364 and a vice president of the Western Federation of Butchers. He is a Petaluma city councilman and has been prominent in various public activities in Petaluma and Sonoma County.

Mrs. Putnam, third entrant in the race, is a Petaluma housewife who served 12 years on the Petaluma Board of Education and is completing a year's term as president of the California School Boards Assn. She polled 4,136 votes in her home county and 2,454 in Marin for a total of 6,590.

Bagley will race either Matzen or Wilson—to be decided by the absentee count — for election in November.

Children Smoke; Brush Fire Sweeps Marinwood Hill

A brush fire believed caused by children smoking cigarettes swept over eight acres of a hill above Johnstone Court in Marinwood yesterday afternoon.

The fire, which broke out just after 3 p.m., was brought under control by four county fire trucks and the Marinwood fire truck, under direction of County Fire Warden Alvin F. Fleming.

Witnesses told firemen they had seen some "grammar school kids" smoking cigarettes on the hill just before the fire started.

Fleming said there was no dangerous wind, nor did the fire threaten any homes.

Hamilton Takes Part In Exercise

Key command personnel at Hamilton Air Force Base and throughout the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) fought a mock war early today.

The word came through to Hamilton at 12:10 a.m. that an "attack" had been launched against the United States by intercontinental ballistic missiles and enemy bombers. Hamilton is headquarters for western NORAD, from Alaska to the Mexican border.

No fighter aircraft were launched in the war exercise, but computers, maps, radar tracking stations, combat operations personnel and medical men were called back to Hamilton and other NORAD bases in the United States to direct the "brain" war.

Under the simulated attack, manned bombers and ICBMs hit key cities in the U. S. and Canada. Follow up mass raids mass enemy raids were launched against most North American large cities and Strategic Air Command bases.

About 85 key men at Hamilton were ready to direct operations to repel the attack and send fighters into the air.

On paper, Hamilton planes were dispersed to Seattle, Sacramento and other fields. Plane, on paper, simulated landings at Hamilton.

Base officers helped direct the sinking, with the Navy, of three submarines sounded off the west coast.

NORAD headquarters in Colorado Springs sustained a simulated attack and personnel there directed operations from a secret alternate headquarters. "Key" cities throughout the U. S. were under nuclear attack and radiation fallout.

At 3:30 a.m. President Eisenhower sent a message much like the one which would be sent in actual combat, urging civilians to turn to conelrad stations and urging calmness.

The exercise involved about 4,300 men in the manual portions of the air defense system, 260 men along the early warning radar lines and some 1,600 men in semi-automatic systems. It included, Army, Navy, Air Force, and Royal Canadian Air Force personnel.

Maj. Gen. John D. Stevenson, commander of the Western Air Defense Force headquarters at Hamilton, commanded the operations there.

The "war" ended at 6:17 a.m. today. The last preceding such nationwide exercise was held last year.

count was completed that he wanted "to thank the thousands of Democrats who worked so hard to try to put over the write-in campaign. This together with the strong Republican turnout at the polls, indicates to me that it will be a very good race in November. I am looking forward to waging a vigorous campaign."

Geller, at work today in San Francisco, was not available for immediate comment.

Overdose Of Pills

Mrs. Elizabeth Petrakis, 33, of 1732 Center Road, Novato, was reported in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after she was reported to have taken a possible overdose of barbiturates at her home last night.

She was taken to the hospital by United Ambulance.

Novato Brawl Blamed On Mistaken Identity

A knife and night-stick brawl in Novato, apparently touched off by mistaken identity, sent three men to a hospital last night.

Leroy Wehrer, swimming pool service worker of 684 Orange Avenue Novato, was in Marin General Hospital with scalp wounds and seven knife slashes on his legs today. He was reported in good condition.

Two brothers, Dan and Spiros Halikas, who operate the 101 Restaurant, told officers Wehrer started swinging, accusing them of making insulting remarks to his wife. Spiros suffered head bruises and cuts over his right eye. Dan received a broken right hand and cuts and bruises. They were treated at the hospital and released.

The battle flared about 9:30 last night in the parking area of the restaurant at 7349 Redwood Highway in Novato.

Subway Route Being Cleared

NEW YORK (AP) — Subway workers combed through New York City's miles of underground train tunnels today, seeking to prevent a repetition of the fire that trapped thousands yesterday.

A third rail flash set aflame a pile of refuse in a subway tunnel under Grand Central Terminal, stalling 14 rush hour trains. Hundreds of passengers were overcome by smoke.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner ordered a complete cleanup and safety inspection.

CENSUS

Department of Finance which released a figure of 10,350.

San Anselmo's population showed an increase of 1,066 over the special census of 1955 which counted 10,446 residents.

The San Anselmo figure is a little below the 11,700 estimate by the State Department of Finance which is being used for state fund allotments to the Hub City. City Administrator Douglas Flautt said San Anselmo stands to lose about $1,500 a year in such funds unless supplementary census reports raise the new figure.

Sausalito stands to lose thousands of dollars if the 5,286 figure is used as the official census.

Sausalito City Manager Charles A. Brown immediately issued a plea to any resident who has not been counted to either send a census form to the bureau of the census field office, U.S. Armory, Santa Rosa, or telephone or see the Sausalito city clerk to give her the proper information. The city clerk, Brown said, will pass the information on to Hammons' office.

Brown said Sausalito had expected a count between 5,500 and 6,000. He said the city clerk has been notified by several people that they have been missed and "this indicates a lot more may have been missed."

The state estimate being used as the official population is 5,700.

Hammons said final census figures will be announced by the census bureau in Washington in September or October.

He observed that many cities in the First Congressional District were estimating their populations too high, and the figures received were below what they expected. These cities had been operating under "educated figures" provided by the State Department of Finance to determine apportionments, he said.

STATE

Nixon landslide in California in November. Their statements overlooked the fact that Brown and McLain together outpolled the vice president. Democrats top Republicans in the registration by 1,156,520.

The state vote ran about 15 per cent below the 66 per cent turnout in 1956 when President Eisenhower, uncontested, rolled up 1,354,764 Republican primary votes.

The outcome of the low-keyed election pledged 70 Republican convention votes to Nixon and the 81 Democratic votes to Brown, who says he is not a candidate but hasn't determined his choice.

The governor's victory for his slate of Democratic party regulars intensified interest in how the big California bloc will be split—as appears inevitable—at the Los Angeles convention.

Nixon's pulling power among the state's Republicans seemed to indicate little success for a last-minute plea by supporters of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller that GOP voters give the vice president the silent treatment by not voting.

William Brinton, San Francisco attorney and chairman of the "Citizens for Rockefeller Committee," said he made a check of San Francisco precincts and concluded the silent vote for Rockefeller was running 14 to 15 per cent.

But Thomas P. Pike of Los Angeles, who headed Nixon's campaign committee, declared, "Once again Richard M. Nixon has demonstrated his popularity with the rank and file of voters of California."

Brown predicted California would go Democratic by close to a million votes in the fall.

PEOPLE SPOKE

Ludy, in a victory statement today, said: "I feel the voters went along with both my and Mr. Blair's campaign statements. They've come to the conclusion that it's time something was done about trying to economize in county government. I will do all in my power to carry out my platform."

Blair said only that he wished to thank all his supporters "and the voters in other districts who showed they want a change . . . The people certainly spoke."

Fusselman said he felt the primary victory over two opponents showed the people believe in the position he has taken against what he regards as ill-advised, costly projects.

Young Novato Girl Found Dead

A 21-year-old Novato girl, who was suffering from infection and fever, was found dead on the couch of her living room yesterday afternoon.

The victim is Patricia Ann Fuller, who was living with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fuller, at 612 Manuel Drive.

Fuller told investigators his sister was being treated for an infection and had a temperature of slightly over 100 degrees. When he got up to go fishing yesterday morning, his sister was lying on the living room couch. He told her to call the doctor if she did not feel better. Mrs. Fuller said Patricia then fell asleep on the couch. She sent her children outside and closed the door to let Patricia sleep. When Fuller came home at 1:30 p.m., Patricia appeared to be sleeping. He and his wife went shopping and returned to find the victim still asleep.

It was about 3:30 when they noticed something wrong and called the girl's doctor.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Redwood Funeral Home in Novato.

Baby Boy Born In Doctor's Office

An expectant mother called at her doctor's office in San Rafael Tuesday for what she expected would be her last checkup before her baby was born. She was absolutely right.

Mrs. Mary Herold of 35 Hillview Avenue, San Rafael, gave birth to a nine pound, 13 ounce boy in the office.

The baby was delivered "without any complications" by doctors Rafael G. Dufficy and Frank A. Lowe in the treatment room where Mrs. Herold was waiting for appointment.

The baby was named Ralph Jr. after its father, Ralph Herold, a salesman at J. C. Penney Co. in Corte Madera. The mother and child were taken to San Rafael General Hospital after the birth.

Esperanto Meeting

A Japanese Esperantist will address the Esperanto Society of Marin on Saturday night, at 7:30 p.m. at 354 Lovell Avenue in Mill Valley. The meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, not tonight. Yesterday's news story inadvertently gave the wrong date.

Terrell Lester, 56, resident of Marin City 17 years, died Monday after more than a year's illness in a local hospital.

Lester, who became ill and was hospitalized in May, 1959, was a custodian in the Sausalito School District for more than 11 years. He last worked at Richardson Bay School.

Lester came to Marin City from Memphis, Tenn. During World War II he was an employee of the Marinship yards in Sausalito. He was a native of Mississippi.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Bryant and Osborn Mortuary in San Francisco.

San Jose District Votes 86-Cent Schools Hike

Voters in the San Jose School District came up with the simple majority needed to approve an 86-cent hike in the district's tax limit in yesterday's vote. The vote was 316 to 256.

The vote means the rate may rise from the present $1.39 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25 to support the four district elementary schools.

DISTRICT TOTAL

The $1.39 operational tax rate was included in a total $2.11 district rate. The total included 18 cents for retirement, 28 cents for repayment of state school loan and 26 cents for bond interest redemption. The three figures will vary slightly next year. In addition, there will be a social security tax, still to be set exactly, to cover non-teaching personnel.

About 1,650 students now attend the schools; approximately 2,000 are expected to attend next year, with additional children of Hamilton Air Force Base personnel moving into the district and the rising civilian population.

THREE YEARS

The $1.39 rate had been in effect for three years. The rise will mean the district can employ five additional teachers, at a cost of $32,490 yearly; grant a 2 per cent teacher salary increase totaling $13,000; buy library books to bring library facilities up to standard at a cost of $5,183; buy additional instructional equipment, keep buildings and grounds maintenance up to the required level and begin building an "adequate" reserve fund.

The additions total $66,523 yearly. Of that, $43,709 is expected to be raised from the new tax rate; $22,814 will come from additional state aid due through the higher tax rate.

There are about 1,050 registered voters in the district.

DEMOCRATIC WINNER SPORTS VICTORY SMILE

Charles M. Geller, San Anselmo electrician, smiles broadly as he is congratulated at Marin County Democratic headquarters by Ernest Schallinger of Novato (left) and Harold Morgan, chairman of Democratic County Central Committee, on winning the party's nomination for State Senate. Geller defeated both Max S. Miller, San Rafael painting contractor, and a determined write-in campaign by incumbent Republican Sen. John F. McCarthy. He will face McCarthy in the November election. Rocky, Ike Breakfast, Talk Politics; Governor's Candidacy Not Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller breakfasted with President Eisenhower and talked some politics with him today, but gave no indication he had changed his mind on any political issues.

Talking with reporters at the White House, the New York governor:

1. Said the chances are "pretty good" that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will get the Republican presidential nomination.

2. Reaffirmed his own willingness to accept a draft for the top place on the ticket, but again rejected with emphasis proposals that he accept the vice presidential nomination on a Nixon ticket.

Rockefeller said he and Eisenhower discussed "politics, international affairs, and the President's forthcoming trip to Japan" while they breakfasted alone in the White House dining room.

NO TALK ON ROLE

But, Rockefeller said in response to queries by a horde of newsmen, such questions as his own possible candidacy, the pressure on him to be Nixon's running mate, and a possible major role for him at the GOP convention in Chicago, never came up in the conversation.

Asked what political matters were discussed, Rockefeller replied he "would hope that the President would say something about that" since he—Rockefeller— felt the courtesies of the situation forbade him to tell.

Rockefeller said he would refuse any major role in the Republican convention because he wanted no possible misunderstanding that he might be making himself available for the vice presidential nomination. The governor said he had done his best to clarify his position on the vice presidency but "apparently there are a few diehards who don't believe me."

OPTIMISTIC

"Do you think a Republican president will be elected in the fall?" a reporter asked.

Rockefeller paused briefly, smiled, and replied: "I'm always optimistic."

He added, that "the chances are pretty good, as things stand now, that the vice president will get the nomination."

The meeting was requested by Rockefeller.

The New York governor was gracious, shook hands with every reporter as he left the executive mansion, but gave them very little information.

A reporter asked:

"Do you consider yourself any more a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination than you did yesterday?"

Rockefeller: "No, I wasn't a candidate yesterday and I am not today."

NOT MENTIONED

As for the vice presidential nomination, Rockefeller said Eisenhower respected his declaration that he would not take the vice presidency, "and never mentioned it to me."

The governor said his decision to refuse the No. 2 position was based simply on his belief that he could be more useful as governor of New York "than in a standby position in Washington."

A reporter asked:

"Would you like to use this forum to announce your support of Vice President Nixon?"

Rockefeller paused, then remarked: "Well, I hadn't planned to." He smiled again and dropped the subject.

Better Luck Next Time

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Thieves who broke into a liquor store took their loot the hard way.

They tipped over a heavy safe, blasted it open and took $2,000 in cash and checks.

If they'd just pressed a key to open the cash register they could have escaped with another $2,500 which the bartender forgot to put in the safe.

FROZEN SCHOOL LUNCHES

Parents Will Taste Controversial Menu

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Those Larkspur and Corte Madera parents who eat dinner tonight (or tomorrow night) as guests of the Larkspur School District at Hall School will be sitting down to one of the most controversial bills of fare ever served.

The meals they eat will be the same as those served their children at lunch—daily at the Hall School, and three times a week at the Larkspur-Corte Madera and Neil Cummins schools.

On one point there is no controversy. The lunch itself—a frozen entree in an aluminum throwaway container — is far different from the first fare served school children in the United States when, in 1853, the Children's Aid Society in New York fed all who attended their vocational school.

14 VARIETIES

Fourteen varieties of the lunch are served, supplemented by milk, fruit, bread, butter and sometimes a vegetable. The menus include fried chicken, hot dogs, hamburger, meat loaf, stew, macaroni and cheese, fish and turkey.

Leading the popularity list among the children is the hot dog, with servings hitting more than the 200 mark at the larger schools.

Packed in Los Angeles, the food is shipped to the Marin Food Lockers, where it is stored about one month ahead of the day it will be used.

The fact that it is revolutionary is about the only point on which its backers and detractors agree.

Behind the program is Ralph E. Church of Orinda, former president of a vending machine corporation in Oakland, and now president of LunchBell Foods, distributors of the product which is packed and frozen by Fradelis Frozen Foods.

SEIDEL CREDITED

Church credits Dr. Vaughn Seidel, Larkspur school district superintendent, with a big assist in getting the LunchBell company under way. It was Seidel's interest in the program, Church said, which enabled him to launch the system about a year ago.

On the other side of the picture is J. M. Hemphill, supervisor of the State Department of Education's school lunch program.

Although the state, through Hemphill, has given its approval to the system as meeting the minimum nutritional and legal requirements of a "class A" lunch, Hemphill is frank to admit "We are not enthusiastic."

After a 30-day survey of the program, Hemphill and his team of experts said they found the cost excessive.

At 29 cents per package, plus the cost of milk, fruit, bread, butter and extras, the district is paying in the neighborhood of 40 cents per lunch for each child. The children are charged 30 cents.

"We find the average cost throughout the state to be 22 cents," Hemphill said.

DENIES DONATIONS

He noted that the frozen lunches, supplied to the district by a private, profit-making corporation, deny the schools the advantage of a large portion of surplus food donated to school districts by the Department of Agriculture.

Costwise, Church and his backers argue that doing away with the need for expensive kitchen installations and labor will bring the cost of the program down once it is more widely accepted.

As to the quality of the food used in the lunches, Hemphill said it was his personal opinion that it fell short of what it might be.

"The fish and green beans, for example, when heated together, took on one another's flavor to the point we couldn't tell them apart," he said. The hamburger he tasted, he added, was a "soggy mess."

Some menus were better than others, he conceded.

The state team also found fault from an "esthetic" standpoint, arguing that at this level of a child's development, proper serving and eating habits are almost as important as nutrition. The hasty serving of the throwaway package, they argue, gives the child no advantage along this line.

'PREMATURE'

Hemphill added that he thought a national news release, recently sent to most of the country's newspapers and magazines by the promoters of the company, was "premature."

"They painted a glowing picture of their program as the ultimate in school lunches," Hemphill said. "We don't think this is true and we think the schools throughout the United States should know the other side of the picture."

Despite the state's opposition to his program, Church insists the meals are "varied, healthful, tasty and well balanced."

Twin cities parents will be able to decide for themselves tonight or tomorrow night. The dinner bell rings at 6:30 o'clock sharp.

Wood Woe

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)— Jim Cook, high school mechanical training teacher, is being ribbed for an incident that took place in one of his classes recently. A student made a mistake and ruined a piece of wood.

"What's the matter with you," said Cook, "do you think that wood grows on trees?"

Bigger Budget Proposed For Terra Linda

A proposed budget totaling $39,348 and requiring a tax rate estimated at 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation was tentatively approved last night by the Terra Linda Community Services District board.

Last year's tax rate was 97 cents and the budget was $39,000, but because the total assessed valuation of the community's property has increased, next year's tax rate can be lowered, said president Joseph R. Gunn.

Final approval for the 1960-61 budget will have to await seating of the newly elected directors, said Gunn. "Some action will have to be taken by Aug. 1," he added.

The budget has been earmarked as follows:

Administration $2,219, fire department $13,191, parks area maintenance $6,100, park and recreation planning $1,810, community recreation $3,100, street lighting $8,328, volunteer law enforcement program $500 and allocated reserve $4,100.

Outgoing directors Elmer Johnson, William Munson and John P. Namle were all given letters of commendation for their "outstanding service to the community" by president Gunn. Namle was re-elected yesterday, so will continue on the board.

Highway Widening Will Be Topic On 'Sounding Board'

The proposed widening of U.S. Highway 101 through San Rafael will be discussed tomorrow on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program from 9 to 10 a.m.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will have as guests C. F. Green, State Division of Highways assistant engineer, San Rafael Mayor John McInnis, and Paul Huff of Daly City, attorney for the Marist Society of California.

The Marist fathers own a large piece of property that the proposed new roadway would cross.

Listeners are invited to submit questions for the panel to answer during the broadcast. The program will be tape recorded and rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Continued fair weather was in store for the Bay Area and Northern California through the weekend, the weatherman said today.

The five-day forecast calls for normal temperatures and no rain, except for possible afternoon and evening thunderstorms in the high Sierra. The usual morning coastal overcast was expected, however.

Corte Madera Sanitary District Bonds Voted

Corte Madera Sanitary District voters yesterday handily approved a $900,000 sewer bond issue by 1,479 to 436 votes, well above the two-thirds majority necessary to authorize bonds.

Meeting last night while the votes were being counted, the district's board of directors elected a new president and named a new member to replace former president Harry W. Black, whose resignation was accepted.

The election was the third for the district in two years. Two previous elections, in 1958 and 1959, both called for construction of separate sewage faciilities in Corte Madera. Both were defeated.

ENLARGEMENT

The $900,000 approved yesterday will go toward enlargement of the Ross Valley District plant in Greenbrae, which handles Corte Madera's sewage, and for replacement and enlargement of sewer lines.

Elected board president was Herbert L. Vernet of 447 Tamalpais Avenue, a retired Coast Guard commander who has served on the board two years.

Named a board member was Charles Miller of 50 Paloma Drive. Miller is chairman of the Corte Madera Taxpayers Committee which worked toward defeat of the bonds in 1959, but which supported yesterday's issue.

'COOPERATIVE EFFORT'

"Passage of the bonds represented a cooperative effort of the board and the committee," Miller said today. His committee had opposed the former bond issues because of disagreement on feasibility of a separate Corte Madera plant.

Black, a board member for almost four years, resigned because he re-enlisted in the Air Force, and will be stationed in London.

Miller, along with board members Ernest T. Mock and Harold A. Snyder, will be up for re-election in September.

Big Balloon Drifts Over West Texas

ALPINE, Tex. (AP)—A huge Navy balloon which was supposed to come to earth Tuesday continued to sail over Texas today headed west.

The balloon was sighted 30 miles west of here, in far West Texas.

Navy Cmdr. John W. Sparkman said in San Antonio early this morning that there was a better than 50-50 chance the balloon would pass the western edge of Texas.

The gas-filled balloon carries film which is recording cosmic rays from stratospheric heights.

The balloon is as tall as a 50-story building and it floated to Texas at altitudes above 100,000 feet from Brunswick, Ga., where it was launched Sunday morning.

Angel Is. Excursion Trip Set Sunday

The Blue Spirit will make a special run to Angel Island Sunday with 115 passengers, with proceeds from the trip to go to the Chilean disaster relief fund.

Sponsored by the Sister City Committee of Sausalito, the trip starts on the Russell G. Lewis boat on the sandspit at 2:30 p.m. voyagers will be taken directly to Angel Island where they may picnic and relax, according to Mrs. M. Justin Herman. The boat is to leave the island at 7 p.m. and arrive back at Sausalito about 7:30 p.m.

Those going should take their own lunches, Mrs. Herman said. Barbecue pits are available. Reservations may be made with Russell G. Lewis, excursionist.

San Francisco Voters Pass Bonds For Art Treasure

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco voters approved today a $2,725,000 bond issue to house an 18-million dollar collection of Oriental art donated to the city of millionaire sportsman Avery Brundage.

Semi-official returns from all precincts showed the issue received 133,578 yes votes to 55,068 no. A two-thirds majority was necessary.

In Chicago, Brundage congratulated the voters. He said he was "greatly impressed by the enthusiasm shown by the city of San Francisco."

"I think it is a great satisfaction to the city that business interests, labor interests and political parties were behind the issue," he said.

Dixie Voters Approve 62-Cent Tax Increase

Dixie School District voters approved a 62-cent increase in the district's basic tax rate yesterday to pay for additions to the professional staff, ground improvements and purchase of books and equipment.

The vote was: yes, 1,381; no, 938.

School officials considered the vote heavy for a school district. The primary election at the same time, and a number of controversial issues brought out the voters, they said.

BASIC RATE

The increase will boost the district's basic tax rate from $1.83 to $2.45 per $100 assessed valuation.

In addition to the basic rate, residents pay "override" taxes which this year amounted to 55 cents per each $100 of assessed valuation. These taxes are for retirement funds, public use of school buildings for recreation, loan repayment to the state and bond retirement.

OVERRIDE SAME

According to Supt. Dennie B. Willis, the override taxes will be about the same for the next fiscal year. They are not affected by the election outcome.

The 62-cent increase will be used as follows: $28,500 for hiring a librarian and four additional teachers; $9,500 for a full-time curriculum specialist; $13,800 for ground improvements and purchase of physical education equipment and $14,000 for library books and equipment to improve the science and mathematics programs.

Herup Retains Water Post In Landslide Vote

With a landslide majority of nearly 3,000 votes, William C. Herup was re-elected yesterday as director of the second division of the Marin Municipal Water District for a fifth term.

Herup polled 3,841 votes, 2,948 more than opponent Peter J. Bertoni, vice president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co. in San Rafael, who came in second with 893 votes.

Harold W. Elliott, a retired agent for the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, trailed into third place with 707 votes.

Herup has served as second division director since 1942, when he was appointed by the water district board to fill the unexpired term of Charles Reindollar who had died half way through his term.

He promised continued support for expansion of the water district's facilities. Herup participated in construction of Bon Tempe Dam in 1948, Peters Dam in 1955 and the new Nicasio Dam, now under construction.

Kaiser Bids Low On River Power Project

OROVILLE (UPI)—A combine headed by Henry J. Kaiser Co. of Oakland, has submitted a $51,178,671 low bid for construction of a large water and power project on the south fork of the Feather River.

The project will include four earth and rock-fill storage dams in Butte County, four diversion dams on tributaries of the Feather and three hydroelectric plants with an aggregate capacity of 86,500 kilowatts.

All electric power generated by the projects will be purchased from the Oroville-Wyandotte irrigation district by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for more than three million dollars a year to pay off a proposed 62 million dollars in revenue bonds.

Authorities said award of the contract was pending opening of bids on the revenue bonds June 21.

Stinson Votes School Tax Continuance

Stinson Beach retained its $1.40 school tax rate in yesterday's primary election, with a vote of 115 for and 63 against.

The whole situation was tense for a while, according to Stinson Beach school trustee Mrs. Kenneth Shockey. The measure had to be placed on the ballot again, she said, because "we goofed."

Stinson Beach a year ago voted the $1.40 increase from its previous limit of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation. "We assumed this was permanent," Mrs. Shockey said, but found out a few weeks ago that it was just for one year.

"If it hadn't passed yesterday," she added, "there was a possibility of having to close the school." And, she said, without the continuancy, the inter-district agreement with Bolinas School District would collapse.

Unionization of the two districts is expected to go on the ballot in November.

Bicycle riders would have become subject to California's drunk driving laws under a proposal submitted to the state legislature in 1959. It didn't pass.

Japanese Organizing Ike Welcome

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese conservatives today made plans to rally 600,000 Japanese to give President Eisenhower a rousing welcome, countering leftist demonstrations against his visit.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party and Japanese business leaders joined in a "National Welcome Ike Committee" to ensure a warm reception when the President arrives June 19.

An organized reception for the President was made necessary by mounting leftist opposition to the visit and student threats to stage a giant sit-down strike on the runways of Tokyo's International Airport to impede the President's landing.

Behind the students are Socialist, Communist and left-wing labor groups contending that Eisenhower's visit amounts to interference in the bitter dispute over ratification of the new U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Tam Valley Scouts To Present Circus

A Cub and Scout circus will be held between 7 and 9 p.m. Friday at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club hall, sponsored by the club.

The circus is for all Scouts and Cub Scouts in the valley. Proceeds will be used by their groups for maintenance.

There will be game booths, refreshments, a cake walk and entertainment put on by the different Scout groups, Mrs. Neva Gill, publicity chairman said. The circus is being organized by Scoutmaster Joseph Morrison, Cubmaster Dare Royce and Mrs. Harold Brown, chairman.

Picnic Scheduled

Club Italia of Marin, Italian-American social club, will stage its annual chicken barbecue picnic on the grounds of Star Hall in San Anselmo Sunday for members and friends.

Marinwood Youngsters Give To Chile Relief

Grammar school children from the Mary Silveira School in Marinwood pooled their pennies, nickels and dimes and turned $41.29 over to the American Red Cross in San Rafael today for the Chilean relief program.

Peace Officers Plan FBI Speaker

Richard D. Auerbach, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in San Francisco, will speak next Wednesday night before the Marin County Peace Officers Assn.

The dinner meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito. Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos will be host.

John R. Flor, president of the peace officers group, announced members must make reservations to attend the meeting.

Two Girls Peddle Refreshments To Help Chile

The world benefit fund for earthquake victims in Chile was swelled today by $26, thanks to the efforts of two 11-year-old Corte Madera girls.

Gretchen Walford and Claudia King, both fifth graders at Neil Cummins School, were determined to help their unfortunate friends in the southern hemisphere. So they decided to go into the pop corn, soft drink, frozen sucker and grab-bag business.

Using a coaster wagon as a portable "store," the pair peddled their wares from door to door for two days, returning home for more supplies when the inventory ran low.

Their prices, strictly non-inflationary, ranged from 3 to 4 cents per item.

Fulbright Aid For Mill Valleyan

Dr. Thurston Womack, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco State College professor, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to lecture in Japan for 11 months beginning in September.

Dr. Womack's award is one of 300 grants given this year through the federal government to outstanding instructors in the United States, said Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, president of the college.

Dr. Womack, an associate professor of language arts at San Francisco State, will lecture at the Tokyo University of Education on linguistics and the teaching of English.

Dr. Womack' wife, Helen Womack is a sixth grade teacher at Old Mill School in Mill Valley. The Womacks and their three children have lived at 36 Fairway Drive for four years.

Work To Start Soon On Montecito Thrifty

Contracting bids on the new Thrifty Drug Store to be erected in the Montecito Shopping Center will not be closed for three to four weeks, but preliminary ground work will begin on the building site in two or three weeks, owner Abe Blumenfield said today.

Architect William B. David of San Francisco said the glass fronted, air conditioned building would cost about $230,000 to construct. It is to go up on a site behind the Standard Oil service station at Third Street and Grand Avenue.

Not Trailer Resident

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported on June 3 that John Klotovitch, foreman for the William H. McDevitt Co. on a Sausalito construction job, lives in a trailer on the job site. He lives at 386 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

Weary Willie, Come Back To Tiburon

Weary Willie has wandered away and the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club would like him to return with no questions asked.

Willie, and three of his brothers, annually appear at the club's Memorial Day carnival. This year, as usual, he took up his position at the entrance to the Reed School grounds. Sometime between 8:30 p. m. Sunday and 9 a. m. Monday he slipped away into hiding and has not been heard from since.

This is a very neat trick since Willie is an eight-foot clown, hand-painted on wood with an extravagantly sad expression.

"Willie come home," earnestly plead the members of the club.

WELL-GROOMED HOT ROD IN SHOW

This "customized hot-rod," one of 50 cars viewed by 3,000 visitors to the first annual show of the Marin County Timing Assn. last Sunday at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael, has special upholstery and chromed nerfing bars, wishbones and valve covers. A 1932 Ford, it boasts a 1955 Chrysler engine with six carburetors. Cars shown included a variety of hot-rods, various kinds of customized vehicles, dragsters and sports cars. Participating clubs included the Strip Pacers, Road Runners of Marin, Eliminators, Sleepers, Gentlemen, Twisters and Quick Changers. Proceeds will go toward providing a Marin County drag strip.

Council Acts To Purchase Fire Truck

San Rafael is calling for bids on a new fire truck, powered by a Hall-Scott motor, according to plans and specifications approved by the city council Monday night.

The relative merits of the old Hall-Scott, as compared with newer and lighter models drew considerable discussion at Monday night's city council meeting, but the Hall-Scott won out on the recommendation of Deputy Fire Chief Vance Trivett.

Trivett said that from his experience, the Hall-Scott has done a capable job over the years and proved to be adequate. He said he can't say they are the best engines on the market, but they have been dependable for years.

"That's like saying my old man used it so it's good enough for me," Fred Jensen declared. Jensen said he sees no need to pay $4,000 or $5,000 more for an old heavy moter "when you can get lighter engines with more snap" at less price.

However, Jensen conceded he has nothing against the Hall-Scott and would go for it if other councilmen want it. On Trivett's recommendation, city fathers agreed unanimously on a Hall Scott motor.

In other actions Monday night, the San Rafael City Council:

1. Approved a new sign ordinance recommended by Building Inspector Clifford Monk. It will clarify some of the vague points in the existing sign ordinance.

2. Approved the final map of Terra Linda Valley No. 3. Eichler Homes Inc. plans 42 lots in the Nunes Ranch along the extension of Del Ganado Road.

3. Approved the final map of south of the old Freitas home, next to Terra Linda No. 11.

4. Agreed to maintain trees on the center strip of Del Ganado Road if Eichler landscapes it for low-cost maintenance. Councilman David Menary Jr. declared he would accept trees for maintenance but nothing else because this could create a precedent for other subdivisions.

5. Approved a final map for Scenic Heights Unit 4, a subdivision of 13 duplexes off Fifth Avenue across the street from Sun Valley.

6. Called for bids on a new fire station across Highway 101 from Terra Linda. Cost is estimated at $53,000.

GOLDEN TOUR—County Treasurer Martin F. (Frank) Donohue and his wife, Jane, go over map of projected tour through Redwood Empire with which they plan to celebrate their golden wedding. The Donohues were wed June 16, 1910, in St. Raphael's Church. (Independent-Journal photo)

Golden Wedding Anniversary For Tax Collector, Wife

Marin County Tax Collector-Treasurer Martin F. (Frank) Donohue, 74, and his 71-year-old wife, Jane, will observe their golden wedding with a leisurely motor trip into the Pacific Northwest.

They expect to leave on the trip Friday. "We'll just head north on Redwood Highway for a leisurely vacation about 10 days," Mrs. Donohue disclosed today. They plan no anniversary party at their home, 1144 East Court, Novato.

The couple married at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael on June 16, 1910.

Donohue was born in Marin at Jewell Station, near Tocaloma. His father worked for the North Shore Railroad. Frank was also employed by the same line, as conductor for 25 years. North Shore Railroad was the predecessor of Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Donohue was elected county tax collector in 1930 and has been elected to office without opposition ever since. He plans to retire when his present term ends two years from now.

Mrs. Donohue, a native of Ireland, came to San Francisco at the age of 3. She has lived in Marin for a half century.

She has two sisters in Novato, Mrs. Sadie E. Rochfort and Mrs. Minnie King, and one brother, John, also living in Novato. The couple have one son, Donald F. Donohue, who operates the Novato Theater and Tiburon Playhouse.

Frank has four sisters, Mrs. Michael O'Connor of San Rafael, Mrs. Harry Hyland of San Francisco, Miss Kathryn Donohue of San Francisco, and Mrs. Peter Ruess of Livermore.

A brother, Emmett I. Donohue, represented Sonoma County in the California Assembly, and later was elected district attorney of Sonoma County. He was killed in an auto accident shortly after taking office in 1931.

The tax collector is a member of the Tamalpais Lodge of Native Sons and the Holy Name Society of Novato. He has been a member of the San Rafael Lodge of Elks for 51 years, and is a past exalted ruler.

Men Wearing More Bikinis, Stylist Says

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—American men are climbing into bikini swimsuits in increasing numbers—but they're still too inhibited to show as much flesh as women, according to stylist Mayer Monroe.

"Men are definitely following the lead of women," said Monroe, director of style development for Jantzen Inc. "About two years ago we noticed that women were buying more bikinis. At the time men held no brief for them—now we see a new interest among men."

Monroe said most American men still were too inhibited to like the full bikini, preferring a modified bikini that allows maximum tanning but is more modest than those worn on some European beaches.

"U. S. men seem to be the most modest in the world as far as swim trunks go," said Monroe. "The girls are more willing to show off their figures."

New Silver 'Strike'

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP)—A new "silver strike" was reported in Riverton recently.

But it wasn't a new mine—just an accident.

The First National Bank began circulating 10,000 silver dollars minted in Philadelphia in 1886.

Coin collectors snapped them up. Prior to the Riverton "silver rush," collectors were paying up to $12.50 for one of the dollars.

Bank officials said the shipment of old dollars was received from the federal reserve branch bank in Omaha and put into circulation before they realized their value as a collector's item.

The United States grows about 180,000 acres of strawberries with an annual crop value of about 35 million dollars.

Marin Youth To Germany This Summer

Seventeen-year-old Kim A. Layton of 30 Tarry Road, San Anselmo, will visit Germany this summer as a participant in the 1960 program of the Experiment in International Living.

He is the first student from San Rafael Military Academy to be selected for an exchange student program.

Kim, a junior at the academy, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Layton Jr. His father is sales manager of Dumont Corp. in San Rafael.

The youth will sail June 30 on board the T/V Irpinia from Montreal, and return to New York Sept. 14. He will live for a month as a member of a German family, then spend another month with other Experimenters traveling about the country visited.

Kim is particularly talented at art, likes to ski, and has participated in basketball and track at the academy.

His sister, Judy, 14, attends 3-R School.

They Want Answers

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP) — Detectives in this area are taking courses in hypnosis, interrogation, lie detection and amnesia-breaking.

Harry Arons, director of the Ethical Hypnosis Training Center, says he expects hypnotic techniques to be useful even though evidence obtained with them is not admissible in court.

Church Conclave Calls Legal Gambling 'Deceit'

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The American Baptists Convention says state governments that legalize gambling are "partners in deceit."

The denomination, in the final session yesterday of its five-day annual convention, called the spread of gambling "a symptom of economic and cultural decay."

"When a government legalizes gambling for the sake of adding to its revenues under the pretext of easing the tax burden, it participates in a mass swindle," they said.

FRACTION FOR TAX

"It sets up a system whereby its people are induced to part with a far larger sum of money from which only a fraction replaces taxes, and the government becomes a partner in deceit."

In other resolutions, the 1½-million-member denomination:

1. Set up procedures for an educational program on the tactics and dangers of communism

2. Appealed for intensified government efforts to reach enforceable agreements for disarmament and a permanent ban on nuclear testing.

EXCHANGE URGED

3. Advocated increased educational, scientific and cultural exchanges between Communist countries and the United States to ease cold war tensions.

4. Favored a "new approach" in expanded U. S. technical assistance programs abroad based on "the interdependence between industrialized and underdeveloped countries."

5. Endorsed efforts for better birth control and food production methods to deal with the so-called population explosion.

Polio Victim To Graduate From SRHS

A diploma certifying his graduation from San Rafael High School will soon be delivered to courageous Charles (Chuck) Dalton, 18-year-old polio sufferer, at Rancho Los Amigos Polio Center in Downey.

Charles is a son of Air Force Sgt. William J. Dalton, now in Germany, and Mrs. Dalton, who now lives at 670 Owens Drive, Ignacio, with his sister Janet, a San Rafael High freshman.

A party of his school friends recently honored the victorious end of a five-year fight against polio and for his high school education, gathering at the Vallejo Rehabilitation Center which he was about to leave so that first he might be freed by Los Angeles surgeons of an imprisoning steel cage holding his body rigid, then go into training for use of an electric wheel chair.

Through use of the chair, Charles hopes to attend San Jose State College and work toward a career in writing.

During the past four years Charles studied with home instruction by Mrs. Fred Hines, earning excellent grades in his college preparatory course.

He underwent a series of operations at Downey during his senior year, returning to Vallejo to complete his studies under direction of Mrs. Rowland H. Post and Mrs. Robert Hill of the center's education department.

The group attending his celebration party included 17-year-old Konrad Deleermyder, victim of an automobile accident, who has decided to work toward completion of his high school course at the rehabilitation center.

Bombs Away!

GRAFTON, Ill. (AP)—Carl Pittinger's squirrel hunting trip started out well enough.

He bagged two squirrels. Then he aimed at a third but this squirrel had a weapon handy. It dropped a hickory nut squarely in Pittinger's eye.

Pittinger, 40, was treated at a hospital for a minor eye injury.

Sausalito Players To Offer First Musical Production

An original lyric western drama, "East of the Rockies, or She knows not her father," will be the summer production of the Sausalito Little Theater, opening at 8:30 p.m., June 24.

The show will be seen on Friday and Saturday nights throughout the summer.

Departing from the typical melodrama done previously by the group, this will be the first musical production at the Sausalito Little Theater. Words and music for the show have been composed by Jon Sutton of Sausalito. The book, adapted by Lou Mason from an original melodrama by Frank H. Bernard, is proving a lively vehicle for the large cast.

Elaine Mitchell of Sausalito plays the gun-toting heroine, Chip Gordon. This is Miss Mitchell's fourth season of melodrama. Her role is a distinct departure from her simpering, fainting but ever-noble types she has portrayed in the past.

Lou Mason of Fairfax, a playwright, actor and singer, will be seen as Julian Gray, a tenderfoot from the East who has made his way to Red Dog and Golden Gulch, So. Dak. He falls in love with the heroine and they live happily ever after.

Villain of the Western drama is portrayed by Joe Bologna as Jake Dalton. Dalton is a thief and varmint but a hard worker and he is misunderstood.

Jewell Belle, played by Nan Fowler, and her girls Billie Von Hugo, Mary Kalnin, Lynn Ericksen and Patsy Gordon, do songs and dances of the period.

Also featured are James Merrill as Judge Thompson, Mary MacMahon as Henrietta Wells of Boston, Walt Louden as Jim Gordon, and Stephanie and Carol Burns in the role of Sing-Hi-Thin-Shu-Wing-On-Benjamin-Franklin-Lee.

He Went To Work

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Urban C. Berghauer Jr. and F. Carl Burt tied in an election to fill a vacancy for second ward alderman of suburban Glendale. The vote of 113-113 spurred Burt into action.

A month later in a special election, the vote was Burt 235, Berghauer 137. How did he do it?

"Twice as much work," Burt says, "and plenty of doorbell ringing by friends and neighbors."

Spring Music Festival At Isabel Cook School

"A Springtime Roundelay," composed by Mozart when he was six years old, is the fitting theme number of Isabel Cook School's Spring Music Festival, to be presented at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the school auditorium. It will be sung by intermediate grade students directed by Mrs. Frances Brodie.

The program will include vocal number by vocalists in two age groups, interspersed with piano numbers. The intermediate grade group has 50 singers, and there are 65 seventh and eighth graders in the chorus directed by Richard Judd. Folk songs, spirituals and a cappella compositions are programmed.

Student pianists who will participate in the festival are Marian Pipal and Sharon Pickett, duet; Judy Champion and Shirley Glandon, solos, and Vicki Divita and Shirley Glandon, two-piano number.

RADIATION SCARE AS BOMARC BURNS

Battle-Ready Missile With Atomic Warhead Catches Fire In Launching Pad

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—A needle-nosed Bomarc missile, battle-ready with an atomic warhead in its concrete launching pen, caught fire yesterday, touching off a radiation scare.

The missile was badly damaged and some radiation seeped out of its nuclear tip.

First reports were that there was a threat of heavy radiation in the remote pinelands around the base.

The Air Force later said that the radioactivity—and a slight amount at that—was confined to the badly damaged launching pen.

Investigators of the Atomic Energy Commission, the Defense Department and the New Jersey Department of Health said they would all probe the incident.

UNATTENDED

The Air Force said the Bomarc caught fire as it nestled unattended in its concrete launching shelter, one of 54 at the missile base.

There apparently was a small explosion in the missile fuel system and then fire broke out, an Air Force spokesman said.

Firemen put out the fire at 4 p.m., 45 minutes after it started.

State police at the Ft. Dix barracks said they received a call from the base security police saying an atomic warhead had exploded and asking troopers to close off roads into the area.

Cars were stopped. Troops on maneuvers at Ft. Dix were pulled back as a precaution.

Decontamination men clad special clothing checked the Bomarc base with geiger counters. The Air Force then gave an all-clear.

Few people live in the lonely pine area. The nearest home is more than a mile from the site.

HUNTS TARGET

The 47-foot missile can hunt out its target at a range of 250 miles and at a speed of 1,000 miles an hour. It can carry its nuclear warhead to over 6,000 feet altitude.

The missile, which cannot be fired unless its pen roof is opened, is sent aloft by liquid fuel propellant. It then seeks outs its prey under radio guidance from the ground and powered by ramjet engines. Its short wings stabilize the 7½-ton missile.

Tammany Leader Concedes Setbacks

NEW YORK (AP)—Tammany leader Carmine G. DeSapio conceded last night he had suffered a major political setback in yesterday's primary elections.

He conceded the defeat of Tammany-backed candidates in key fights with an insurgent, reform bloc.

The losses could have serious effects on DeSapio's future as a top Democratic leader.

Unofficial returns showed that William Fitts Ryan, an insurgent candidate, nad won the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 20th district from incumbent Ludwig Teller.

Memorial Day officially began in 1868.

Role Of The Retailer Fading, Economist Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—The retailer is slowly becoming obsolete in American business, an economist said today.

Prof. E. B. Weiss, of New York University, foresees manufacturers taking over perhaps half of all retail operations in a few years. The giant retailing firms, including department stores, he said will in turn enter manufacturing on an increasing scale.

Even the big supermarket operator will cease to look for profits in selling merchandise but in buying it, Weiss said.

MORE MONEY

The more successful retailers already make more money from non-merchandising operations than from selling goods to the public Weiss said. Studies by the Bank of America and other groups show the major percentage of retail profit comes from such activities as departmental leases, shopping center development and realty investment, warehousing, exploiting manufacturers' advertising allowances and installment credit management.

Weiss statements are contained in a study he prepared for Doyle Dane, Bernbach, Inc., a New York advertising agency.

He said manufacturers' allowances for advertising and other merchandising purposes now play such a huge role in retailing that many a shopping center supermarket would close without them.

STOREKEEPERS

In other words, the successful owner of retail stores is a financier—not a storekeeper. He is turning over more and more of his storekeeping to the manufacturers who supply his goods.

"It is clear," Weiss said, "that the mounting list of services performed by manufacturers and allowances offered by manufacturers had failed to stem the downward trend in retail net profit percentage."

If large retailers find they can't make money by selling merchandise but can make it by non-merchandise finance operations, their natural tendency is to give the manufacturer more and more control over straight merchandising, he said.

Nixon Says Demos Still 'Independent'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon said today the California primary election indicates that independent Democrats hold the balance of power in the state.

The large vote for a Democratic slate headed by pension promoter George McClain proves that "Californians continue their tradition of independent thinking," he said in a statement issued here.

"I am gratified by the heartwarming vote of confidence from the voters of my home state," Nixon stated.

Plight Of Typewriter

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — If the typewriter could write of its own experiences, oh what a tale it could tell.

Pete Martello, who heads the state office repair service, says he has found beetles, earrings, peanuts, cheese tidbits, cake crumbs and scraps of salami inside typewriters.

The state police, Martello said, rarely drop anything into a typewriter. More often, they drop the typewriter.

Martello's favorite typewriter story concerns an electric typewriter. A man got his tie caught inside the typewriter. The tie was ripped from his body. So was his shirt. And after the battle was over the man found a parking ticket on his car.

State Aide Hits New Vote Count System

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's new streamlined vote-counting system drew sharp criticism today from the state's top election officer.

"This isn't the answer to getting a faster count," said Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan as he watched returns filter into the primary election tabulation center.

Last night was the first trial of the 1959 law to require an immediate, continuing canvass by county clerks and the secretary of state.

The law, urged by a committee of newspaper editors, requires the counties to report to Jordan every two hours for the first 12 hours after the polls close. Reports are required every six hours for the following 12 hours, then every 12 hours until the canvass is complete.

"We're not getting the cooperation we should from the counties," Jordan said.

Wage Benefit Cut Voted In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Labor Committee voted today to leave out almost half a million more workers from coverage of proposed legislation to raise the federal minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

The action affected 345,000 laundry workers, 80,000 restaurant and hotel employees who make tips and 36,000 movie theater workers such as ushers.

The move meant that 4,359,000 workers will not be covered in legislation originally intended to bring federal minimum wage protection to 10,731,000 workers for the first time.

Democrats, who proposed the changes, insisted the step was necessary to give the bill a better chance of congressional passage.

Rabies Vaccination To Start Friday For All Dogs In Marin

Marin County—an officially declared "rabies area"—will initiate rabies vaccination clinics for this year on Friday, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, announced today.

Under the law, all dogs in the county four months of age and over must be vaccinated against rabies. The county was declared a rabies area last year and was re-declared in March.

The county health department will hold a series of evening clinics for vaccination of dogs. Vaccination with chick embryo vaccine lasts two years, so dogs vaccinated since January, 1959, need not be revaccinated for licensing this year, Dr. Albrecht said. Deadline for licensing is Aug. 31.

In the case of a few dogs vaccinated with nerve tissue vaccine which provides a shorter period of immunity, vaccinations must be repeated annually, the physician said.

Persons bringing dogs to the health department clinics will be charged a fee to cover costs of vaccine and clinic operation. Dogs must be accompanied by a person 16 or over and be held on a strong leash, the health department said. Unruly or sick dogs will not be vaccinated at the public clinic.

Vaccinations will be given at each clinic from 7 to 9 p. m. The schedule: Friday, Tomales Fire Station; Monday, San Rafael, Albert Field; June 15, Belvedere-Tiburon, corporation yard, Belvedere; June 17, San Anselmo, corporation yard; June 20, Fairfax, Central School; June 22, Larkspur, Hall School; June 24, Mill Valley, corporation yard; June 27, Ross, Kentfield, Greenbrae, Kent School.

Also, June 29, Santa Venetia area, Santa Venetia School; July 1, Woodacre area, Woodacre Fire Department; July 5, Point Reyes Station, county fire department; July 8, Marin City-Sausalito, Richardson Bay School; July 11, Terra Linda area, Bernard Hoffman School; July 13, Novato area, Lynwood School; July 15, Corte Madera, Sanitary District office; July 18, Stinson Beach, Progressive Club.

Homestead Gets Plans To Improve Brown's Hall

Architect's drawings of a modernized Brown's Hall on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley were accepted by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club's board of governors Monday night.

Plans, by landscape architect Robert Royston and engineer Herbert Korner, call for enhancing the entry to the building by enlarging, screening and planting. They also call for reversing and expanding the stage to open the rear of the building to a 40-by-60 foot pation area.

A subscription drive to raise funds for the improvements is planned for next fall.

Students Sound Off

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A teacher from Lee High School was excused from class so a group of visiting educators could question the teen-agers without embarrassment.

The youngsters let fly, saying their worst problem was a lack of books in the school library. They said they often had to go to the public library, then often the public library didn't have what they wanted; so they had to go to Jacksonville University; and finally, some said, they had to drive to the University of Florida at Gainesville, 70 miles from Jacksonville.

Little Jack Little, the British born singer-pianist of radio fame, was educated at the University of Iowa.

Newspaper Chain Endorses Adlai

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The McClatchy Newspapers today endorsed Adlai Stevenson for president for the third time.

"Stevenson is a man of mature wisdom, of ability, of great intellectual capacity, of sound judgment and vision," said editorials in the Sacramento Bee, the Fresno Bee and the Modesto Bee.

The three newspapers also supported Stevenson's Democratic candidacy for president in 1952 and 1956.

Shakeup Fails To Awaken Giants' Bats

Rigney Ponders Additional Changes As Slump Lingers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, patsies at the plate and losers of six of their last 10 games, are due for a shakeup.

But manager Bill Rigney doesn't know where to start. He benched first baseman Willie McCovey and outfielder Orlando Cepeda last night. But it didn't do any good. The club still lost to the Cincinnati Reds 5-1.

"I've just got to do something," says Rigney. "We can't buy a hit. I've got to come up with some kind of a brain storm. Maybe I'll try Andre Rodgers (reserve infielder) at first base. I dunno."

Rigney tried Dale Long there last night and the veteran couldn't get a hit. Neither could Willie Mays, who came up to the plate with the bases loaded in the eighth—and lofted an easy fly to center field. Felipe Alou, who went to left field in place of Cepeda, went hitless too.

The Giants haven't scored more than two runs in an inning in their last 12 games—and then only twice have they scored two.

Today, Rigney is depending on the ace of his staff, Mike McCormick, to stop the Reds. Mike goes into battle with a 7-3 won-lost record and an earned-run average of 1.53. He will be faced by Don Newcombe (3-3).

In yesterday's game, the Redlegs pounced on starter Johnny Antonelli for three runs in the second inning and sent him to the showers before he could get anybody out. Antonelli, taking his third loss against three wins, walked Lee Walls, Gus Bell, Ed Bailey and Roy McMillan followed him with singles and Johnny was through. Billy O'Dell came in to put out the fire and allowed only two hits while pitching through the sixth inning.

Vada Pinson hit his sixth homer of the season in the seventh off Joe Shipley; and the Reds got another in the ninth on a hit batsman and two singles.

San Francisco's lone run came in the eighth when Jim Marshall, pinch-hitting for Hobie Landrith, tripled. McCovey then came off the bench to single him home. Andre Rodgers struck out, but Don Blasingame singled and Willie Kirkland was hit on the hand by a pitched ball to load the bases. Mays then had a chance to win the ball game, but, with the count three-and-two, flied out.

GIANT JOTTINGS: Last night's crowd was 19,958 . . . The radiant heating system in Candlestick Park was working to perfection on night games, keeping the preferred seat holders comfortable . . .

Jay Hook pitched a beautiful game for Cincinnati until he ran into trouble in the eighth. For five and two-thirds innings he had a no hitter . . . Blasingame broke the spell with a bounder to second that Billy Martin couldn't handle. Martin was slightly injured on the play when Roy McMillan ran into him and jammed his thumb . . . Jimmy Davenport made his first appearance since coming down with the ulcers three weeks ago. He went into the game to play third in the ninth, came to bat and got a single.

Old Pros Coming Through As Milwaukee Moves Up

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Charlie Dressen's had his say and now the old Braves are having their way.

Dressen told the world last spring how Milwaukee's young pitchers would carry a greater load this year but here are the Braves making their first real push of the season—and it's the tried and true veterans of the staff who are sparking it.

The Braves have won six of their last seven games and Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, the "Big Three" of the trible under Fred Haney, have accounted for five of the victories.

It was Buhl's turn last night and the hatchet-faced right-hander indulged in his favorite form of amusement by gaining credit for a 6-4 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Buhl has scored two of his five victories this year over the Dodgers and stands 22-9 for a .710 percentage against them for his career.

The victory moved the Braves to within 3½ games of the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, who were routed, 13-2, by the Chicago Cubs. The Cincinnati Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 5-1, and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3, in other National League games.

The Cleveland Indians routed the Boston Red Sox, 12-3, and moved to within 1½ games of first place when the Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2, the New York Yankees topped the Chicago White Sox, 5-2, and the Washington Senators beat the Kansas City A's, 7-2, in the American League.

The Braves took advantage of three errors to score five unearned runs in the fifth inning and give Buhl a 6-1 cushion.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs with two doubles and a single to lead the Cubs' 16-hit attack that kayoed Vern Law and tagged him with his second defeat against eight victories.

Dick Farrell pitched out of a ninth-inning jam to preserve Robin Roberts' second win of the season for the Phillies. Roberts and Bobby Del Greco knocked in two runs each and Harry Anderson homered for the Phillies.

Jim Grant yielded eight hits, including homers by Bobby Thomson and Marty Keough, to win his fourth decision for the Indians who were aided by six Boston errors. Four of these were committed in the fourth inning when the Indians scored four runs to take a 4-2 lead.

Don Mossi pitched a six-hitter and Charlie Maxwell and Steve Bilko hit homers for the Tigers, who reached the .500-mark. The Tigers scored all their runs and made seven of their nine hits against Hoyt Wilhelm, who was routed in the fourth inning. Jackie Brandt homered for Baltimore.

The Yankees celebrated Casey Stengel's return to command by beating the White Sox for the first time in five tries. Jim Coates pitched a nine-hitter for his sixth straight win of this season and his 10th straight over a two-season period. Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard had two hits each for New York.

The Senators replaced the Athletics in sixth place with a 15-hit attack that earned Camilo Pascual his sixth victory.

Braves Pilot Says Giants Club To Beat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Charlie Dressen has a feeling his Milwaukee Braves are getting into the groove. And after they defeated the Dodgers last night 6-4, he isn't about to change his mind.

"But I said from the start—and I still say it—the Giants are the club to beat," said the outspoken little pilot.

He was taking note that the Chicago Cubs had walloped the front running Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday and lost a doubleheader to the Phillies two days before.

"It may be they the Pirates are finding their level," said Dressen. "You take in the major leagues, if a batter is a .300 hitter, that's what he'll hit year in and year out.

"The same goes for 20-game pitchers," Dressen went on, and the inference was strong that he wasn't very captivated with the Pirates' pennant chances off their over-all past histories.

Doctors Find Cuban Boxer Has Bad Eye

TORONTO (AP)—Nino Valdes, the 35-year-old Cuban heavyweight pointed to his left eye today and cried in broken English:

"Ten year I have this, 10 year."

Valdes' scheduled bout with Canadian heavyweight champion George Chuvalo was called off yesterday just six hours before they were to climb in the ring because, physicians found, Nini can barely see out of his left eye.

Valdes, whose ring career has spanned two decades, was inconsolable.

"I didn't know anything about this," said Valdes' manager, Al Braverman. "I signed him only May 8.

"But Nini has been passed in the last year by the New York State Atheletic Commission, the British Board of Boxing Control and a whole bunch of others."

Braverman cabled London calling off next month's scheduled bout against British heavyweight Brian London.

"I am going to take Nino to New York to see the finest eye specialist in the world," Braverman vowed. "If he can't fight again I'll find him a job.

"Part of the difficulty could be that Nino has trouble with the English alphabet and pronunciation."

Beaten Boxer Still In Critical Condition

NEW YORK (AP)—The condition of 21year-old lightweight Tommy Pacheco was described as "critical" early today.

Benny Gordon stopped Pacheco just 11 seconds before the end of their scheduled 10-rounder Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena. Pacheco toppled over and hasn't regained consciousness yet.

Wall Serves Notice He's Back On Ball

Pennsylvania Star Paces Qualifiers For National Open

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Art Wall is back on the ball.

Unable to defend his Masters title earlier this year because of a kidney disorder, the lean Pennsylvanian fired a record-breaking, eight-under-par 63 at Oklahoma City yesterday to lead all qualifiers for the National Open Golf Championship.

Wall wasn't even listed among the top 25 money-winners in the most recent PGA standings but he is almost certain to wind up as one of the top choices when the 129 qualifiers join 21 exempt players for the Open at Denver, June 16-18.

TOURING PROS

The veteran shotmaker from Pocono Manor, Pa., turned out at the Twin Hills Country Club course at Oklahoma City with most of the touring pros yesterday to battle for 34 available berths in that section.

Wall showed the way with an impressive 65 in the morning round and then added that record 63 after lunch for a nifty 36-hole total of 128. He bogeyed only one hole for the double round, turning in 15 birdies and matching par on the remaining 20 holes.

Jimmy Clark of Saticoy, finished second behind Wall in the 67-man field at Oklahoma City with a 132. The Hebert brothers, Lionel and Jay, of Lafayette, La., tied for third with 134's.

EX-CHAMPIONS

A pair of former Open champions, Julius Boros (1952) and Lloyd Mangrum (1946), also qualified at the same site along with such other "name" pros as George Bayer, Paul Harney, Doug Sanders, Henry Ransom, Pete Cooper and former National Amateur champion Charlie Coe. But Al Besselink and Don January failed to make the grade.

The second-best aggregate score was turned in by Eric Monti who led 10 qualifiers at San Francisco with a 137. Ken Venturi, Jerry Barber and Jim Ferrier finished behind Monti in this section while two-time amateur champion Harvie Ward missed the boat.

Ed Furgol, who won the 1954 Open, qualified at Washington, D.C., but Lew Worsham, another former champion, didn't.

Billy Maxwell, although nursing a sore back, fired a 138 to lead six qualifiers at Fort Worth, Tex., and Chick Harbert paced nine Detroit qualifiers with a 139.

Ingo Suffers Back Sprain, Flies To N.Y.

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UPI)—Heavyweight Champion Ingemar Johansson will receive therapeutic treatment today for a sprained back that may keep him idle until Friday.

Johansson interrupted his training for his June 20 title defense agains Floyd Patterson yeterday and flew to New York where he was examined by Dr. Herbert Salzberg. Dr. Salzberg will administer the treatment today and then decide whether the Swedish champion can resume training tomorrow or should lay off until Friday.

The ailment was not considered serious inasmuch as Johansson had a similar one three weeks before last year's bout in which he knocked out Patterson in the third round. Johansson said he did not know how he sprained his back and did not appear worried.

REAL DREAM TEAM

Olympic Quintet Has Everything

BERKELEY (AP) — If ever there was a dream team in sports, Pete Newell has one in his 1960 Olympic basketball squad.

He has height, speed, shooters to spare, youth and experience.

Despite predictions from nearly everyone that the U.S. has a gold medal in the bag, Newell feels he has plenty of work ahead of him.

"We have a pretty strong team," the 44-year-old California athletic director said. "But we're not looking for a cinch. That's a good way to get knocked over."

Newell earned his Olympic job by coaching an NCAA all star club to victory in the Olympic Trials.

He has four All Americas to start with—Darrall Imhoff, 6-foot-10 California; Oscar Robertson, 6-foot-5, Cincinnati; Jerry Lucas, 6-foot-8, Ohio State, and Jerry West, 6-foot-3, West Virginia.

Imhoff, from San Gabriel, is a top rebounder and defensive player. Robertson, an Indianapolis product and the all time leading major college scorer, showed during the trials he also can play defense. West, of Cabin Creek, W. Va., does everything and beautifully, and Lucas, a sophomore from Middletown, Ohio, was the key man in the Buckeyes NCAA championship drive.

Newell also has Walt Bellamy, a 6-foot-11 Indiana junior from New Bern, N.C. Lucas said Bellamy was the best player he faced all season. There's Terry Dischinger, Purdue's 6-foot-6 Big Ten scoring leader from Terre Haute, Ind., and Jay Arnette of Texas, 6-foot-2 playmaker from Austin.

Burdie Haldorson, 6-foot-8 ace of the Bartlesville, Okla., AAU team, is the lone repeater from the 1956 Olympic team. He lives at Austin, Minn. Other AAU members are Bob Boozer, 6-foot-8, Peoria Cats from Omaha, Neb., his teammate Al Kelley, a 6-footer from McCune, Kan., and Les Lane, 5-foot-10 speedster from Purcell, Okla., who placed for Bartlesville.

Adrian Odie Smith, 6-foot-1 ex-Kentucky sharpshooter, was chosen from the Armed Forces all star team. He comes from Farmington, Ky.

Tunney, Dempsey Both Pick Ingemar To Win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney both went to the same corner today.

Ingemar Johansson's.

Tunney, re-fighting their old bouts with Dempsey—conversationally—joined Dempsey in picking the Swedish iron man to successfully defend the heavyweight title at the Polo Grounds on June 20 and also observed:

1. Johansson has done more for boxing than any other man since Dempsey by "turning the hoodlums out of boxing."

2. The Swedish slugger is "one of the most interesting athletes" I ever met, including Babe Ruth.

3. Factors such as pride of race, a European vs. an American and a hitter vs. a boxer all are important in this return bout.

4. Johansson is not a finishing puncher but, then, none of the fighters today can be classed as such.

The two old heroes—Tunney now 62 and Dempsey 65—also will be in the same corner the night before the fight. That's when they team with movie star Jimmy Cagney and the two principles in aspecial pre-fight show over ABC-TV.

Looking ahead to the fight, Tunney analyzed:

"Johansson should be in complete control of the fight from the outset. I see him playing cat and mouse with Patterson and will be very much surprised if he doesn't repeat. I don't think Johansson is a deadly puncher but he hits hard and can uncork a knockout blow.

"Of course you can't say how Johansson takes a blow," he added. "but it doesn't seem that Patterson can. The first punch which knocked him down in their last fight was not a finishing punch. I don't think he should have gone down the way he did. He didn't show any resistance."

Dempsey agreed.

"If I was Patterson," he said. "I'd be leery of that right hand. I've got to go with Johansson although if Patterson stays inside he'll have a chance to win it."

Tunney interrupted to laugh "Man, I was leery of your right hand."

"Well," Dempsey said, "I felt sure I was going to knock you out in that second fight."

"You damned nearly did," Tunney interjected. "It was a narrow escape."

They talked of the old days and agreed again that the fighters of today lack experience because they don't fight as much.

"Boxing is a political football," Dempsey growled. "I met a guy the other day who had a new referee's card. I know he couldn't referee a dog fight. It's that way all the way through."

"That's why they remember us," Tunney said. "We fought often."

525 Series Tops Greenbrae Scores

Lee Golsch with games of 178, 179 and 168 rolled a 525 series to lead the scoring in the Tuesday Handicap League at Greenbrae Lanes last night.

Other high series included Jean Molino's 480, Eunice Jalo's 454 and Jeanne Blumenfeld's 442.

Team results last night saw Elite Rug Cleaners defeat Key-Marin Realty 3-1, Purchasers' Protection Plan blank Carriage House Beauty Salon 4-0, Paul's Liquors down Knoller's Bowlers 3-1, and San Rafael Paint and Drywall win from Grise's Liquors 3-1.

Little League Scores

The Realtors outlasted the Giants 10-7 in Mill Valley Little League play. On Monday the Merchants edged the Convairs 4-2.

SACRAMENTO RIVER

Important Survey Of Pollution Under Way

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Two state departments—Water Resources and Public Health —are conducting comprehensive surveys this week on pollution measurements in the Sacramento River — said to be the most complete ever taken in the United States.

The joint sampling operation, according to the Department of Water Resources, is tied in closely with planning for the California Water Plan —if it ever comes into being— but the results should be equally interesting to fishermen.

Ironically, in the field of fish and game, where there are experts by the thousands on deer management, catchable trout and pheasant production, there are not too many on water pollution. This lack of experts is ironical because there probably is no single thing that will hold as much key to the future of fishing in California as pollution.

Pollution may get to the point some day when it also will loom as a major hazard for game, as well, as watering places for animals set much of the pattern for their activities and well-being.

Harvey O. Banks, director of water resources, said the purpose of the study is "to determine the capacity of the river to assimilate wastes of all types."

At this point, the interests of the water department and the fishermen differ somewhat. The water people are concerned about delivering X acre feet of water to a certain point, with an X quality to the water.

But the results will be of little use for fishermen if, somewhere along the way, the amount of pollutants is so great it kills off fishlife.

In water pollution talk, one often hears about average levels of pollutants and other general terms. But the fish caught in a sudden discharge of poisons into a river are not helped any by the fact that this is above average and may be all cleared up by the next day, or even later in the same day.

That is why many of the surveillance programs on pollution at present are ineffective as far as protecting fish. Samples are taken from the water at intervals and they later are tested in laboratories. The tests are analyzed and, at some later time, a report may be made that so many hours or days ago the pollutants had reached danger levels.

All of which puts the fishlife in the river in the same category as the soldier who is killed two hours after the armistice is signed.

To us, one of the biggest problems in pollution, as concerned with the influx of industry — particularly on the Sacramento River—is how quotas may be set for individual firms. If the tolerance level is 100 parts, it would seem that 10 industrial companies could be allowed 10 parts each.

But what happens when 10 more firms apply for permits to discharge poisons into the river. Can they be refused, with the blocking of progress? Or must the first 10 companies spend thousands of dollars to revamp their facilities and reduce their discharge of pollutants.

While this is a somewhat radical illustration, the experts say the matter will be the case — that companies with discharge permits will be subject to having their level of pollutant discharge reduced in the future.

Because of the importance of the problem, it's a sure bet fisheries people will be just as interested in this week's sampling of the Sacramento as the dam-builders will be.

Milwaukee Braves Facing Tough Schedule As Result Of Rainouts

HANLEY

Borrowing money is easy. It's the paying back that hurts. So, too, in baseball. Those rainouts must be made up. And makeup time has arrived for the Braves, rained out 11 times during April and May.

Charlie Dressen, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette & Co. must cram 23 games into the next 20 days and nights. That tidy little schedule will pay back four of the 11. Then, National League president Warren Giles says the Braves may have a day off, June 27.

If it weren't for the fact that June 27 is an off day in both leagues while the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland Indians are playing the Hall of Fame Game at Cooperstown, N. Y., Giles undoubtedly would have the Braves at work that day, too.

Beginning June 28 through July 10, Giles has rescheduled three more of the lost 11 but the Braves will play only 16 games in that 13 day-night stretch. Then comes a four day rest July 11-14 for all Braves except those honored with All Star game invitations, the first in Kansas City July 11, the second in New York July 14.

AFTER THE ALL-STAR break, collection will be made on the remaining four of the 11 during a 66 day-night period July 15-Sept. 18 when the Braves' revised schedule calls for 68 games and three whole days off for traveling purposes.

The 14-day stretch drive Sept. 19-Oct. 2 will seem like a breeze for the Braves, four days off and only 10 games, unless, of course, there are additional rainouts.

INSTEAD OF FLYING home next Sunday evening after their third game in Candlestick Park, the Braves will stay over and make up their first postponement with the Giants Monday afternoon.

Monday evening they will fly directly home arriving in Milwaukee between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m. Tuesday in plenty of time for their night game Tuesday with the Cubs and Thursday a day game with them.

ON JUNE 17, the Cardinals will move into Milwaukee for a night game, then a day game Saturday and a Sunday double header. On June 20, Los Angeles detours to Milwaukee instead of flying direct to Cincinnati for another Brave makeup.

Then the Giants fly in for a twi-nighter June 21, to make up the rainout of May 19. Incidentally, Bill Rigney's men probably will be just as sleepy as the Braves for that twi-nighter since they won't arrive in Milwaukee until 8:25 a.m. Tuesday from Tacoma's Monday night exhibition with the little Giants of the PCL.

WITH THAT TUESDAY twi-nighter, the Giants will have paid back their two rainouts. Los Angeles' lone rainout will have been redeemed in the June 20 makeup. The other tabs still awaiting payment: Chicago, eight games; Cincinnati, five; Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, three each, and St. Louis, two.

Charlie Dressen blames Lou Boudreau for the schedule foul-up "Boudreau began praying for rain so Cub pitchers might get a rest immediately after he was appointed Charlie Grimm's successor on May 4.

"AND WHAT HAPPENED? It rained six days and nights in Chicago May 6-11. Our whole series with the Cubs during that period was rained out. Why, we even had a rainout of a rainout. That Boudreau prays too good."

Machen Gets Favorite's Role Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI)—Eddie Machen was a heavy favorite today to beat Alonzo Johnson in a televised 10-round bout tonight to strengthen his campaign to regain the No. 1 rating among heavyweight challengers.

Machen, who has lost only to champion Ingemar Johansson and Zora Folley in 36 pro bouts, believed he could climb back from his current No. 4 rating by beating every other battler in the top ten.

Then, he said, either Johansson or former champion Floyd Patterson, who meet for the title again on June 20, would have to give him a title chance.

"There's no guarantee Johansson is going to be champion," Machen said. "If he keeps the title, I think he owes me something, and I'd like a return match. But we're not angry at nobody. We just want our shot at the title."

Machen allegedly had a signed contract for a rematch with Johansson when the Swedish scrapper knocked him out in the first round of their match 18 months ago. But the agreement was set aside on grounds it was obtained under duress, and Johansson knocked out Patterson to win the championship.

Meadow Club Tourney Set For Saturday

Members of the Meadow Club will start their annual Gold Putter-Silver Spoon invitation tournament this weekend.

Considered one of the finest invitational golf events on the Bay Area amateur schedule, play will start Saturday, followed by rounds on Sunday and June 18 to end as a 54-hole tournament.

Over the years almost all of the outstanding amateur golfers in the San Francisco area have played in this event, including Ken Venturi, Bobby Rosburg and Tal Smith, who are currently professionals.

TEAM EVENT

At present the tournament is played as a team event. Some of the strong contenders are Dr. Doug Ramsey and Bud Shank, Chet Patterson and Dr. Robert Knutson, Dr. Marv Gilberg and Dr. F. Pyle, Vic Regalia and Milt Morley, along with defending champions George Kerrigan and Art Schumacker.

This group represent the low handicappers with an average of five per man and will be shooting for the gross prize.

However, the majority of the prizes are for the "Sunday" golfer and there are many outstanding handicap teams. Included in this part of the power-packed field will be Hodge Davidson with footballer Ernie Nevers. Doctors Ira Degenhardt and Charles Silberstein team together as a left and right punch.

OTHER TEAMS

Baseballer Josh Billings teams with George Conrinus but could be "whistled out" by referee Dutch Conlon and his partner Ralph Stone of Santa Rosa. And to insure an honest handicap by all 214 players will be Milt Gabbs and his guest Robert Hanna, executive secretary of the Northern California Golf Assn., followed closely by Ed Vest (secretary-treasurer of NCGA) and his guest P.L. Broderick.

Representing the Meadow Club as hosts for the three days will be Chet Patterson and Dr. Marv Gilberg. Other committee members are Lloyd Grandi, Dr. V. C. Paulson, Norb Hartman, R. Belli and Milt Gabbs. The hosts are completing arrangements for a $1,000 hole-in-one award as one of the features of each day.

Howie's 858 Tops Bowling League

Bill Howie of Filippo Construction scored 858 (205-204-214-235) to lead scorers in the Friday Night 540 Scratch trio league at Greenbrae Lanes this week.

Other high rollers were Don Stevens, Marin Bowl Coffee Shop, 829; Holmes Christian, Oscars, 828, and Chico Valsecchi, Greenbrae Lanes Oak Room, 827. The Oak Room trio of Valsecchi (268), Jack Parsons (215) and Willie Corda (184) took high team game honors with 666.

Team results: Filippo 3-1; Oscars 1-3; Oak Room 3-1; Diablo Bowling Supply 1-3; Marin Bowl Coffee Shop 3-1; Team 6 1-3; Marin Wheel Alignment 4-0; Team 1 0-4; Casey's Floor Service 2½-1½; Team 10 1½-2½.

153 Children In Special County School Programs

One hundred and 53 children are being served in the special education programs of the county superintendent of schools' office, the Marin County Board of Education was told Monday night.

Daryl A. Hopkins, coordinator of special education, reported 14 special teachers are attempting to help children with special problems to "become well adjusted members of their families and communities."

Included are children suffering from various types of physical handicaps, including the crippled, blind and partly seeing, deaf and hard-of-hearing, speech defectives, mentally retarded, and those socially handicapped and emotionally disturbed.

The county has six classes for mentally handicapped children, Hopkins said. The enrollment totals 81 children, with not more than 18 to a class.

Two classes for the mentally deficient, whom Hopkins said would need guidance throughout their lives, are housed in a rented house in Mill Valley. There are 17 children enrolled in this program from various parts of the county, but they are on double session because the law limits the number in a class to 12.

Two classes of orthopedically handicapped have an enrollment of 24 students, the lawful limit, and 10 deaf children are being instructed by two teachers, all of these classes in the Marindale School.

A teacher for the blind has one fulltime pupil at Meadow Park School and gives training to four others in their homes. In addition, 13 children partially sighted are being served by a teacher in their homes.

The program needs four buses and three station wagons to transport the children to their classes, Hopkins went on. On a typical day the vehicles travel 655 miles, he said.

There are many problems ahead in the immediate future for the special education program, he went on. Additional children are expected for the orthopedically handicapped classes; the classes for deaf should be in more normal school programs; closses for the mentally defective, already at capacity on double session, need to be expanded probably to another location farther north in the county.

There is a need for an additional class for the mentally handicapped in the West Marin area. Hopkins said his office knew of five to eight children now in regular classes who should be in special classes there.

There is a great need for a study of curriculum for the special classes, the coordinator declared. The program has outgrown the research one on it, he said. The program being given to the mentally defective "hasn't been researched enough to know if we're doing any good."

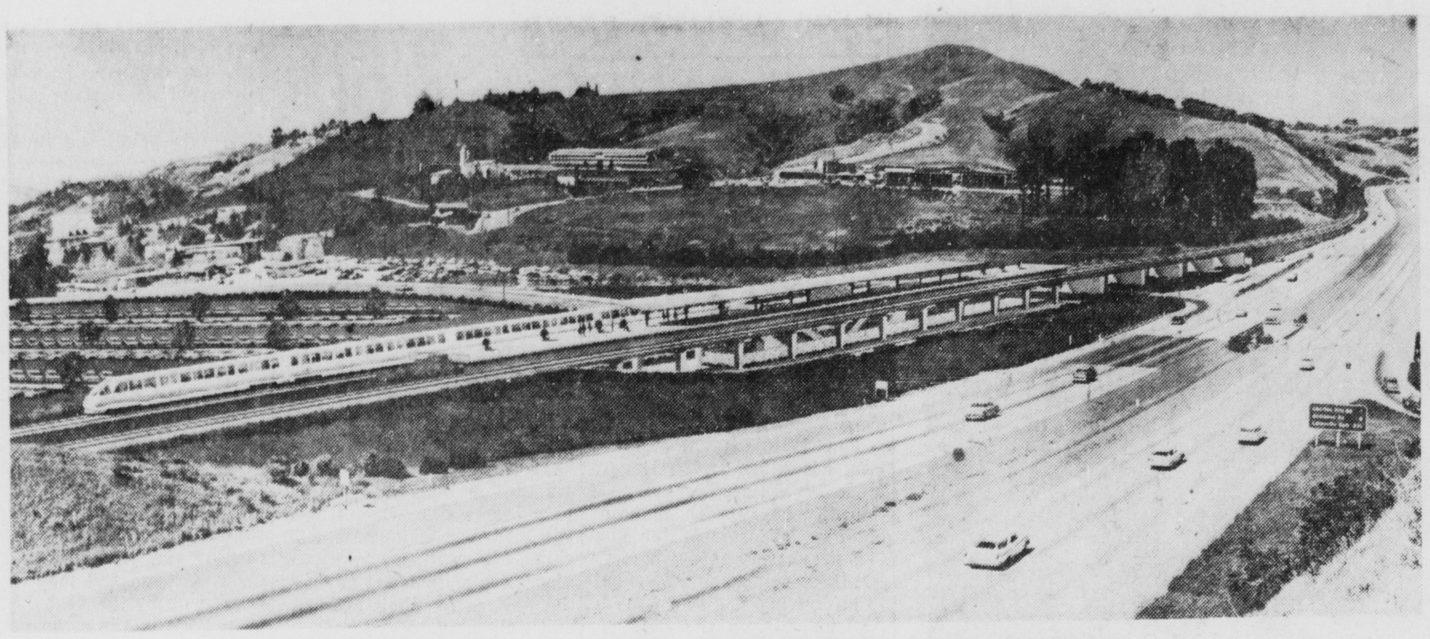

Hopkins said California is educating 65 per cent of children with these types of problems, although the average of the 12 other western states is only about 21 per cent.

However, he said he doesn't think that Marin County is up to the state average. There are many children "with a vast range of hearing defects, for example, that we're not reaching. They need special teaching because they are not getting the regular teaching."

Chiropractic Post

Dr. Stephen A. Duff of 1104 Irwin Street, San Rafael, has been elected a member of the executive board and chairman of the department of economics of the California Chiropractic Assn.

Dr. Duff was elected during the annual convention of the association in San Diego last weekend.

PROPOSED RAPID TRANSIT STATION

This is the first in a series of photo-renderings depicting typical structures and locations of the proposed regional rapid transit network now being planned by the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District. The proposed station here is located at Orinda Crossroads, in central Contra Costa County, to serve the populace of the Orinda-Moraga area. During peak commute periods, computer-programmed trains would leave as frequently as every 90 seconds to transport commuters to key employment centers throughout the five counties of the Bay Area.

Bad Check Passer Nabbed By Serio

Robert Edward Shields, 39, on parole from San Quentin for writing bad checks, is back in the arms of the law, charged with more of the same offense.

He was arrested yesterday noon by Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo. According to Serio, Shields opened a $75 account at the San Anselmo branch of the Bank of America and proceeded to write several hundred dollars worth of checks. He gave a Woodland Avenue address as his home.

The bank complained. Serio traced Shields to a Fourth Street hotel. The officer waited and nabbed Shields, who drove up a in shiny Thunderbird, which he had driven out of a car lot for a "trial run."

About 3,100 lives were lost in tornadoes, hurricanes and floods in continental United States from 1950-59.

Cooperative Teaching

Mrs. Esther Furnas of 35 Waverly Road, San Anselmo, is member of a new committee of the American String Teachers Assn., California Unit, to study ways of improving cooperation between private music teachers and teachers of the public school system.

Marin City To Consider Co-op Housing

A town meeting will be held by the Marin City Council, Inc. at 8 p.m., June 20 in the community lounge, at which landscaping and cooperative housing will be discussed.

Council members announced that the children's recreation program will begin July 1 and continue through Aug. 31. Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday. A special instruction program will be held to train teen-agers as aides between June 20 and June 30, Mrs. Doris Rochelle, house chairman, said.

The gymnasium will be used for the activities, she said.

little Hawaiians eat it raw

(Grown-ups make it into C and H)

Our sugar cane is so pure, sweet and clean, little Hawaiians eat it raw. This is the very same sugar cane we grown-ups make into sugar . . . for you. C and H Sugar. World's finest, we believe.

Hawaii is a tropical garden with sun-drenched days, warm, gentle rains and earth so rich even orchids grow wild. This must be the place where sugar was meant to grow.

PLEASE YOUR GUESTS with an easy-to-serve menu as this fare. A distinctive entree is "Fruited Chicken Salad in a golden Citrus Ring." Toasted cheese rolls and a "Maid of Honor" cake complete the luncheon menu.

June Signals Parties For The Bride-To Be

June signals parties for brides-to-be. If you're planning a luncheon announcement party, a shower or just a bridge luncheon for "the girls," delight your guests with this delicious, easy-to-serve menu. "Fruited Chicken Salad" in a golden "Citrus Ring" is a distinctive entree salad. Chewy raisins made tart with lemon juice add tang and texture to the chicken salad; the cool gelatin ring filled with orange and grapefruit sections is the perfect complement.

Make the ring, cook the chicken, cool and cut for salad a day ahead. In the morning, put the chicken salad together, unmold the ring and garnish with colorful spiced crabapples.

For toasted cheese rolls, spread cheese on soft bread with crusts removed; roll up and skewer with picks, brush with melted butter and bake in a hot oven until golden brown. Prepare the rolls a day ahead, cover with foil and refrigerate. Let a handsome, big cake be the dessert-centerpiece so eyes may feast on it before it's cut. Our "Maid of Honor Cake" boasts a "Pineapple Raisin Filling" and "Fluffy Frosting," tinted palest yellow to blend with the yellow rosebuds.

Use your favorite yellow cake recipe, or for a short cut use a cake mix, with our filling and frosting.

CITRUS RING

- 2 (3-oz.) packages lemon gelatin
- 2 cups hot water
- ⅓ cup fresh lemor juice
- 1⅓ cups cold water
- Few grains salt
- 2 large oranges
- 2 large grapefruit

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Blend in lemon juice, cold water and salt. Cool until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, pare and section oranges and grapefruit. Fold sections into thickened gelatin and turn into 8½-inch ring mold. Chill until firm, at least 2 hours. Unmold and fill with Chicken Salad. Makes 1 (8½-inch) ring (about 8 servings).

FRUITED CHICKEN SALAD

- ¾ cup light or dark raisins
- 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 3 tablespoons water
- 3 cups diced, cooked chicken
- 1½ cups sliced celery
- 3 tablespoons diced pimiento
- ¾ cup mayonnaise
- 1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
- ¾ teaspoon salt

Rinse raisins, add 3 tablespoons each lemon juice and water and mix lightly. Cover and let stand several hours or overnight. Combine chicken, celery, pimiento and drained raisins. Blend all remaining ingredients, add to chicken mixture and toss lightly. Makes 8 servings.

MAID OF HONOR CAKE

- 2 9-inch yellow or white cake layers

Pineapple Raisin Filling

- ¾ cup pineapple juice
- ⅓ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 2 egg yolks
- ⅓ cup chopped light or dark raisins
- 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice

Fluffy Frosting

- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup light corn syrup
- ¼ cup water
- 2 egg whites
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice.
- Few drops yellow food coloring, if desired.

Spread Pineapple Raisin Filling on one cake layer, and top with second layer. Frost sides and top of cake with Fluffy Frosting. Top may be decorated with raisins and bits of gumdrops, if desired.

Pineapple Raisin Filling: Combine pineapple juice, sugar, cornstarch and salt in small saucepan and stir until well blended. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture boils and is clear and thickened. Slowly stir into lightly beaten egg yolks. Add raisins. Return to low heat and cook 3 to 4 minutes longer, stirring constantly until thickened (do not allow to boil). Stir in lemon juice. Cool before spreading on cake.

Fluffy Frosting: Combine sugar, corn syrup and water in small saucepan and heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Cover and boil 3 to 4 minutes, then remove cover and boil without stirring, to 242 degrees F. (Syrup will spin an 8-inch thread when dropped from tip of spoon.) Beat egg whites with salt until stiff. Pour hot syrup slowly over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Beat until stiff enough to spread. Blend in lemon rind and juice, and tint a pale yellow with food coloring, if desired. Makes 1 9-inch cake.

Food Elements Make Milk Major Food Bargain

Milk and milk products supply between 65 and 75 per cent of the average person's intake of calcium, the U. S. Department of Agriculture stated recently in reporting on this best known of milk's nutritional elements.

Calcium, however, is only one of more than 200 food elements identified in milk. Considering the total contribution of milk in the daily diet, the late Dr. Charles H. Mayo of the famed Mayo Clinic was moved to remark: "Every person, young or old, should drink milk. Milk contains a large variety of nutritional constituents and, considering its cost per pound, more food for the money than any other food material available."

ONE-FIFTH OF BUDGET

It is estimated that milk and milk products account for 16 to 20 cents spent out of the average food dollar. For this amount, the American family buys—in addition to most of its calcium—40 to 45 per cent of its protein; 59 to 76 per cent of its Riboflavin; 35 to 39 per cent of its Vitamin A, and substantial amounts of other needed food elements.

Milk has long been regarded as a "balanced" food, meaning that it contained the nutrients required for good health in the proportion needed. Milk in the diet helps to offset harmful effects of fad dieting or high-carbohydrate, high-sugar eating habits common among young people. "In fact," states a University of Illinois bulletin on the subject, "milk has an important place in every reducing diet, for older people as well as young."

ENERGY PROVIDED

The caloric value of one eight ounce glass of milk (168 calories) provides the energy to walk one mile, play nine holes of golf, house-clean for two hours or climb 186 stairs.

Thus, in total, the milk supply provides approximately 30 per cent of America's food nutrients at a cost of less than 20 per cent of the food dollar, putting it in the classification of a "bargain" product.

Chili Topped Franks

Slit 6 frankfurters and 6 frankfurter buns. Place buns, cut side up, topped with slit frankfurter in a 9 x 12- inch baking pan. Combine 1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) chili with beans and ¼ cup chopped onion and spoon over frankfurters. Sprinkle with ½ cup grated cheddar cheese, bake 10 to 12 minutes in a very hot oven. (450° F.). 4 to 6 servings.

Berries And Rhubarb Are Featured In Party Tarts

Strawberries and rhubarb have gone together like love and marriage ever since folks began to make pastry, and these party tarts show why the two fruits have been a happy-ever-after combination.

And best of all, they give us a chance to show off our pastry-chef skills when preparing for special festive occasions as summer approaches. The tarts, nutritionally fortified with toasted wheat germ, are as light as a whispering breeze—and they're cool, mam, what with the berries and rhubarb nestling in the creamy gelatin filling.

The tarts, of course, can be made ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator until served, thus eliminating the last-minute rush in a hot kitchen.

The basic recipe for the wheat germ tart shells and the fillings can be the pastry-vehicle for other summer fruits, such as raspberries, blue berries and peaches, or combinations thereof.

PARTY STRAWBERRY AND RHUBARB TARTS

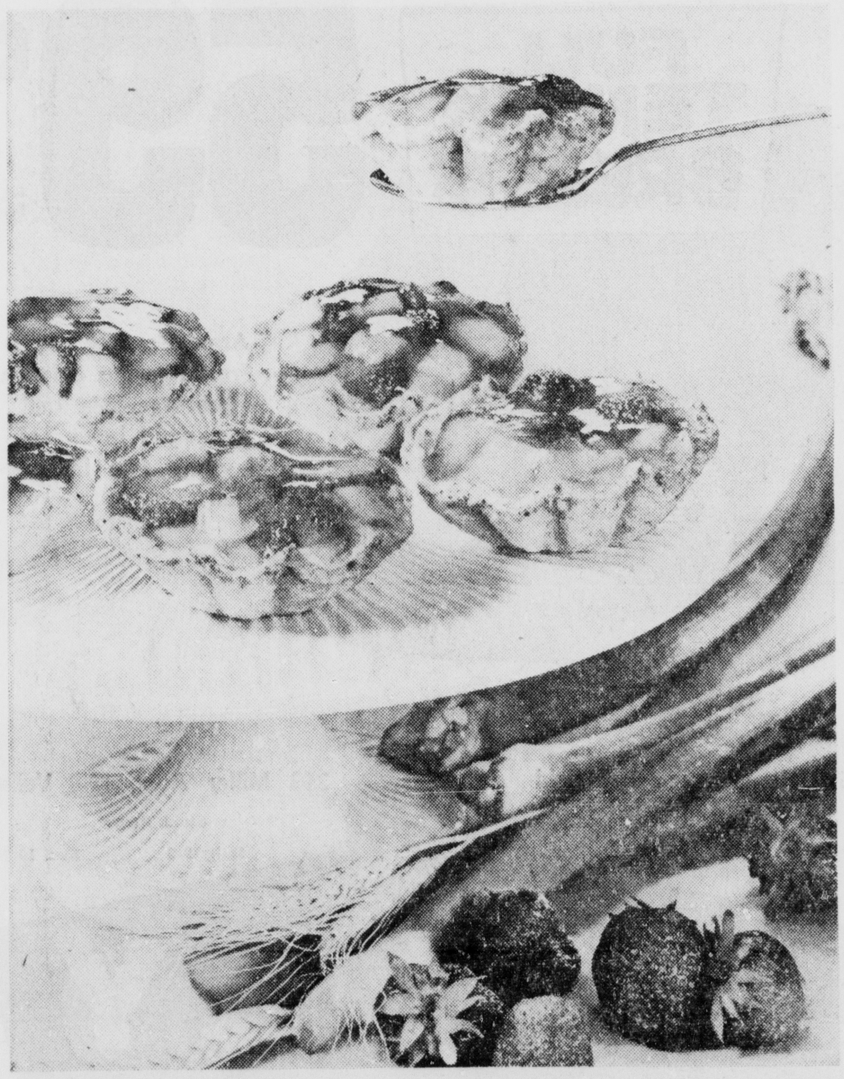

- 3 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅓ cup wheat germ
- 1 cup shortening
- 7 to 8 tablespoons ice water

Sift flour and salt together. Add wheat germ and mix well. Cut in shortening until it is the size of peas. Add water slowly, tossing mixture with a fork until dough forms a ball. Roll on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut dough in circles and line 3½ inch tart pans or press on the bottoms of inverted muffin pans. Prick well and bake at 425° F. for 12 to 15 minutes until golden. Cool.

Filling:

- 1 pound fresh rhubarb, cut in ½ inch pieces
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1½ cups sliced strawberries
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- ¾ cup cold water and fruit juice
- Dash of salt
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Simmer rhubarb, ½ cup sugar and 2 tablespoons of water in covered pan for 2 minutes. Cool. Add 3 tablespoons sugar to sliced strawberries. Dissolve strawberry gelatin in hot water. Drain juice from rhubarb and strawberries and add enough cold water to make ¾ cup. Add fruit juice and water to gelatine, add salt. Cool. Whip cream until stiff and fold in ⅓ cup of cold gelatin. Place cream in bottom of tarts. Chill. Chill gelatin until slightly thickened. Fold in fruit. Place in tart shells and chill until set. Makes 15 to 16 tarts.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for a something-special dessert, these strawberry rhubarb party tarts will spark your interest. They're light, delicious and nutritious too, since the pastry shells are pepped up with wheat germ.

Paradise Guild Theater Party To Be Saturday

Mystery lovers and theatergoers will enjoy an evening topped with champagne at the Tiburon Playhouse, when the Paradise Guild of Sunny Hills holds a theater party, Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The Cove Players' suspenseful mystery, "An Inspector Calls" will be the highlight of the evening, plus an intermission brightened with champagne.

The play, written by J. B. Priestley is directed by Dr. Earle M. Marsh, well known San Francisco gynecologist. Dr. Marsh's recent production of the "Crucible" brought him wide acclaim as one of the most dramatic directors in the Bay Area. His current presentation is double entertainment at its best. It is a British mystery thriller and also an entangled social web involving a family and their various conflicts.

Mrs. Ernest G. Patterson, fund-raising chairman, has been assisted by Mrs. John S. Sproul, refreshment chairman, in planning this year' event. Tickets may be obtained from any Paradise Guild member, or Leonard Linn, Tiburon.

Proceeds from this theater benefit will be used to aid the 61st annual Sunny Hills Grape Festival to be held this year on Saturday, October 1 in San Anselmo.

PARADISE GUILD of Sunny Hills members meet in front of the Tiburon Playhouse to make final plans for the Guild's champagne theater party on Saturday evening when the Cove Players will present "An Inspector Calls." From left are Mrs. Edward P. Ward, publicity chairman; Leonard Linn, ticket agent; and Mesdames Edward Sabo, Bargain Box chairman, and Ernest G. Patterson, theater party chairman.

Enthusiastic Crowd Attends Cove Players Opening Night

A large and enthusiastic audience turned out for the opening night of the Cove Players latest production "An Inspector Calls" by J. B. Priestly. Opening last Friday night the play will run through the next two weekends both Friday and Saturday nights starting at 8:30 p.m.

Among those attending opening night were many from Mill Valley where director Earle M. Marsh lives. Accompanying Mrs. Marsh were Mesdames Philip Smith, president of the Outdoor Art Club, Arne Anderson and Madeline Carver.

Also in the audience were the Fred Zelinskys who are responsible for building the charming Playhouse in which the Cove Players perform.

The Misses Linda Burke and Natalie Waldteufel came from Mill Valley especially to see Babs Dreyfus who played the part of Sybil Birling, social climbing self centered mother in the play.

Celebrating their wedding anniversary were the William Tresnons of Belvedere who soon will leave for Japan. They were accompanied by the Edgar Chiswells, also of Belvedere.

Also enjoying the play were the Bryce Andersons of San Rafael with the Michell N. Abramsons of Tiburon. Two couples from Little Reed Heights attended together, the Newton Wises and Charles Bigelows.

Accepting congratulations for the performance between acts were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shreve. Mrs. Shreve produced the play.

Marin Women

MRS. RAUSCHNABEL HONORED AT FAREWELL COLLEGE EVENTS

Mrs. William (Marianne) Rauschnabel, who has been a member of the Art Department of College of Marin since 1939 and is now retiring has the pleasing knowledge that in those years of teaching she has woven into a delightful pattern the threads of many friendships.

On Monday night in the weaving studio of the Art Department, Mrs. Rauschnabel was given a surprise party attended by about a hundred of her present and former students. The party was arranged by George Duncan, evening supervisor at the college. The studio was banked with white marguerites, and party fare, including a large beautifully decorated cake, was served.

Mrs. Rauschnabel was presented with a corsage and a folder. Inside the folder was a message: You taught us loomcraft, weaving, skill, and now we hate to see you leave. But take a sample of our twill—the warp and woof we learned to weave." On the other half of the folder were greenbacks woven together.

Mrs. Daniel Deedy, member of the college board, expressed its appreciation for Mrs. Rauschnabel's faithful service.

Also in the weaving studio the daytime class gave a party last week honoring Mrs. Rauschnabel. The party was arranged by Gladys Fossey, a former student. The corsage for Mrs. Rauschnabel was made of coins.

The Wednesday morning class in ceramics also gave a party for the beloved teacher and presented her with a money tree.

Mrs. Rauschnabel, who lives in a lovely old home in Kent Woodlands, which was one of the houses on the Kent property, will leave in July to spend several months in Europe.

Redwood Fuchsia Society To Meet At St. Stephen's

The Redwood Fuchsia Socity will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in its new meeting place, St. Stephen's Church, Belvedere.

Highlight of the evening will be a talk by Phil Reedstrom of Novato, who will discuss "General Fuchsia Garden Care." Reedstrom is the society's first president, and is well known as a fuchsia grower and hybridizer as well as a landscape architect.

Further plans for the society's exhibition at the Marin Art and Garden show will be discussed by Clell Crowther of Mill Valley, fuchsia show chairman.

There will be the usual prizes and plant tabie, and refreshments will be served by Mesdames Daisy White and D. L. Cooke of Mill Valley.

Guests are invited to attend the June meeting.

Last month's mystery prize of a dwarfed Japanese maple was won by Mrs. Edward Huffman of Mill Valley.

Scout Troop Marks Seven Years Together

When the members of Girl Scout Troop 173 stepped forward at their Neighborhood Court of Awards to receive the Curved Bar, highest rank insignia in Scouting, they brought to a close seven years of Scouting together.

It is unusual for an original group of second grade Brownies to be able to continue throughout their Scouting years and attain this high rank as a group. The girls, all eighth graders at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera, were members of the first second grade Brownie Scout troop to be organized in the Corte Madera-Larkspur Neighborhood.

During their Intermediate Scouting years, the girls have performed many acts of community service. Their favorite each year has been Christmas Caroling at the homes of friends and shut-ins in the Twin Cities, and leaving boxes of homemade cookies at each stop. A service project for their school was providing nursery care at all afternoon P-TA meetings for a year.

While earning their First Aid Badge, the whole troop completed the Junior Red Cross First Aid course and received certificates as well as their Girl Scout badge.

Although the girls have received their Curved Bar in the Homemaking field, their interests have been varied and taken them out-of-doors very often on cookouts and camping trips. During the past two years, they have planted 65 packages of wild flower seeds in the Marin hills while on hikes, as part of their conservation program.

As the girls graduate into Senior Scouting, they have presented their Girl Scout troop flag to their Neighborhood Girl Scouts. The flag is special to them as it has ribbons attached showing that they have sold two cases of cookies per girl, during the annual cookie sale, for each of their years in Scouting.

Corte Madera's high ranking Scouts are: Lucinda Cummings, Lynda Hopkins, Jane Huffman, Sandra Jones, Sheila Malone, Sherrill Perry, Laura Rowe and Christine Schmidt.

Their leader, during their Scouting years, has been Mrs. Howard Perry, who organized the troop in 1953. She served as Corte Madera-Larkspur Neighborhood chairman for a number of years, and was the Marin County Cookie Sale chairman last year. She is presently a member of the Council Camping committee and a Troop consultant for her neighborhood. Mrs. Perry received the highest Girl Scout adult award, the Thanks Badge, in March, for her continued service to Scouting.

How To Store Winter Shoes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Winter shoes should be stored with care to preserve them.

Here are some tips from a foot care authority, Dr. William M. Scholl:

—replace broken, frayed or knotted laces, worn-down lifts and thin soles before storing winter shoes.

—line the toes with tissue paper instead of shoe trees. Women's shoes are more delicately made than men's, and shoe trees, left in them for two seasons, may stretch them out of shape.

—store shoes in boxes instead of in shoe bags. Only boxes can keep shoes free of the dust, dirt and light which tend to fade them.

—a thorough cleaning before storage will help preserve the finish of all shoes.

Warner; Misses Rosemary Castellani, Katy Lawrence, Janet Vossbrink, Marilyn Kinsel and Louise Dell'Era.

Let's Try To Find Better Collective Bargaining Way

Recent strikes, like the steel strike, and threatened strikes, like that against transportation, have brought the matter of labor's rights into the thinking of many who hadn't considered it before.

How far should an organization be able to affect the public good for its members' good. Has any one group the right to tie up the whole nation?

Answers to these questions are basically tied into one other question, how far do the rights of union members go before they conflict with the rights of the other citizens of this country?

There has been much talk about this in recent months, both by labor and non-labor persons. Answers obtained so far all have a distinct flavor of their source.

It was refreshing, therefore, to hear a suggestion from a labor leader aimed at trying to find some real answers.

John Despol, general vice president of the California Federation of Labor, CIO-AFL, spoke recently to the Industrial Relations Section of the Commonwealth Club. He proposed establishment of a Hoover-type commission to study collective bargaining.

"Such a commission, representing the Senate, House, management, labor, and a few qualified neutral experts, would be asked how to improve the process of collective bargaining, to improve unions, and to improve industry," he said.

"Such a commission, established by Congress, would follow the procedure used successfully by the Hoover Commission on governmental efficiency, with task force teams and staff to work out and examine the tools needed for collective bargaining in the years ahead.

"It would seek areas of agreement, looking for new solutions from an overall approach."

That sounds like a sensible suggestion, worth trying. We'd all like to see if some answers couldn't be found by such a group.

We hope, however, that if they should find solutions, that they could be made more effective than have the suggestions of the Hoover Commission.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ONE CANDLE LIGHTS ANOTHER

"When people growl about their crooked politicians, I ask them if they voted last time. If a workman screams about a strike, I ask him how active he is in his union. You would be surprised at the excuses and stammering."

The brief message was sent by a lady in Baltimore, Md., who picked up the Christopher idea of "lighting a candle instead of cursing the darkness."

Shortly after we published it, a woman in suburban New York wrote: "The lady in Maryland made me sit up and take notice."

She said her husband—a union member—never went to a meeting. She began urging him to go and see what was happening.

When he found only a handful present, he was so shocked by the negligence of good members that he started to build up attendance. After months of hard work, he had nearly a 100% turn out.

As one woman changed a union from her home, so can you, with God's help, do something to change the world for the better!

"He who has looked carefully into the perfect law of liberty and has remained in it, not becoming a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work shall be blessed."

Installment Collector Gets Tired Of Excuses, Quips, Smart Cracks

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks an installment collector gets tired of hearing:

"Here's $10 on account — account of that's all I got."

"Honest, I was going to pay you, but I took a vacation instead — just to get away from my money worries."

"Don't take the television set. If you have to take anything back, take the sofa. Then we can still lie on the rug and watch the programs."

"Well, let's be sporting about it. I'll pay you $5 now, and $5 the next time you catch me."

"Shut the door quick, Martha, here comes Shylock again."

"You mean I dated that last check June 1, 1970? How could I have been so careless? Well, you'll have to wait until next month now. I don't have any more dough left in the bank."

"Go on and sue me if you want to. But you'll have to stand in line. There's a lot of people ahead of you."

"How can you garnishee my wages when I'm self-employed? I am, that is, when I work."

"Don't sic the dog on him now. Wait until he gets into the yard and closes the gate."

"IT DON'T DO you no good to match me at home. It's my wife you gotta catch. She's the one who mishandles the money in this family."

"Look, suppose I slip you $7.50 personally, and you go back and tell your boss we moved to Australia and didn't leave a forwarding address. Okay?"

"For the last time I tell you — I will not be responsible for my husband's debts. Sure, I know he bought the ring on time. But the ring is mine — the debt is his."

"Go ahead and take back the crib. Junior's in the second grade now."

"It's been one thing after another. First my ulcer kicked up, then grandma fell off the ski slide, and now my wife's gall bladder is —"

"You don't worry me anymore. I've already applied for bankruptcy."

DON'T THREATEN me, Buddy. After all, it's slow-payers like me that keep guys like you in jobs."

"The government owes billions — and you get hysterical over a lousy $76."

"I have written a long letter to your company explaining everything. Can you lend me a stamp?"

"Yes, they used to live here, but they moved last week. Very mysterious, too. A big truck came about midnight. Nobody knows where they went."

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

George E. Keeney submitted his resignation as mayor of Sausalito because business requirements kept him too much out of town and he felt it wasn't fair to the citizens to have a part-time mayor.

Marin County agreed to take over police and fire protection for Angel Island for one year on condition that the National Park Service maintain custodianship for the period. The island had been in the hands of the General Service Administration.

20 YEARS AGO

"If rail service can't be saved, tell us now," pleaded directors of Marvelous Marin, Inc., asking an end to uncertainty about plans of Northwestern Pacific. Samuel W. Gardiner, president, declared that if ferries and trains can not be saved, bus service must get No. 1 priority.

Pup Reporter Can Smell Story

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

According to an article on the first page of last night's paper (June 1), no one had come up with an answer to where the source of that "mysterious odor" might be.

My, but you must have an alert staff on that fine paper of yours. I'm surprised that one of your pup reporters (bloodhound variety) didn't smell a story before this time.

All he has to do is follow his nose to the suburbs of the city and he will find a dark scum or growth on the water next to the shore from which the odor is coming. This irritating stench has been quite evident for at least three weeks now, and is most prominent at Bayside Acres out on Pt. San Pedro Road.

Here's to a better smelling San Rafael!

Grandmoms, Dads Had Grand Time

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It gives me great pleasure to thank publicly Manny Charnow for hosting a delightful day at Marin Rod and Gun Club in San Rafael on Thursday, June 2.

I also wish to thank all the members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club and the Rotary Club who so generously contributed funds and their services to make this affair such a great success.

The Hamilton Field Air Force Band and all the others who volunteered their services certainly added much pleasure to the event.

All the grandmoms and granddads really had a grand time.

Manny A Pest, A Lovable One

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

For a long time I have regarded Manny Charnow as a pest. When I read in the Independent-Journal that Manny was arranging a day at the Marin Rod and Gun Club grounds for the Senior Citizens and that Jack O'Connell was to be the M.C. for the day I still thought he was a pest. Later, in making the arrangements for the use of the facilities of the club, we had many arguments and I still thought he was a pest.

The the day arrived, June 2, and I went out to San Quentin with fear and trepidation.

Then things started to happen. There was a crew barbecuing chicken, (they had been at it from six o'clock in the morning and some of them had worked the day before, marinating the chicken) a crew of women in the clubhouse were making and preparing salads, the band from Hamilton Field were setting up their instruments to play and a crew were setting up the tables where the dinner was to be served. These people were not oldsters, Mr. Editor, but young and middle aged folks working to make an enjoyable day for the Senior Citizens.

And, after every one had had their fill, there must have been 500, at least, they all repaired to the clubhouse and enjoyed hours and hours of community singing, led by a lovely lady with a beautiful voice.

Later I learned that all of this was for free, that Manny had wheedled, chiseled and begged it all from merchants and citizens who, I am sure now, felt a great deal of satisfaction in doing so. I am not mentioning names for the reason that there were so many wonderful people who helped in this wonderful endeavor that I am afraid I might overlook one or more.

Mr. Editor, I still think that Manny Charnow is a pest, but a very lovable one.

Lets Re-examine Freedom Meaning

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In your editorial "It's time to give thought to our feelings of war," you state Americans "fear war today means the destruction of civilization" and yet imply that we also believe "freedom is more important than peace, even some one else's freedom."

While freedom remains an ideal to which we can respond it is time to re-examine its meaning and methods of achieving it. Fighting for freedom today means surviving, for there can be no freedom in atomic war, nor for those who might remain.

As a nation we have not been afraid to fight for what we believe is right, but let us remember we are a part of a world community which has this same tradition.

Even with survival at stake, actions of our government indicate we are not afraid to go to war. But the important question is: are we afraid to fight for peace?

Fighting for peace means having the courage to go against our tradition of reverting to violence. It means having the wisdom and courage to change our values, our thought and feelings. Courage to say: war is madness, and cannot possibly achieve anything we value.

Are we to face possible extinction of the human race because nations do not interpret their values in the same way, nor allow different ideas to co-exist?

While basic human needs of food and shelter are universal, the value system each nation evolves to achieve them is different. When nations abstract their ideals, using concepts such as freedom, honor, justice, etc., we cease to understand each other because each nation interprets these values in the light of their own history and culture. Could there ever come a time when honor, freedom, etc., would have the same meaning for all?

Our experience with democracy shows us the necessity of respecting the right of people to believe what they like, and the possibility of living peacefully together without agreement. This same concept, which we know works, must now be carried into our relations with foreign countries. Let us work to establish world law, not world war.

Jack Benny doesn't think his wife, Mary, appreciates the fur stole he gave her for a birthday present. "It isn't so much that she didn't say 'Thank you'," grieves Jack, "But this morning I found it hanging from my car's radiator ornament."

An impoverished newspaperman—aren't we all?—breathed his last and fellow ink-stained wretches took up a collection to bury the poor fellow. A political hack was approached with, "Won't you contribute a dollar to bury a reporter?" He pulled out a five-spot and suggested, "Here—bury five of them!"

Cannery Row Changed; Home Of Lincoln Steffens Still Comfortable

Having travelled over the weekend, this will be a travel-type column.

I write it not only to reveal to my public that I do get around, but also in the fond hope the boss will one day realize how valuable I would be in the role of correspondent from far-flung places, keeping Marinites up to the minute on Trivia from Tahiti to Cucamonga. With a reasonable expense account.

My travels this week took me only as far as Monterey and Carmel where I was sent to cover the 10th anniversary of sports car road racing on the Monterey Peninsula at Laguna Seca.

I CAN ONLY say the place has changed considerably since John Steinbeck and I were younger.

Cannery Row, the strip of fish packing houses "across the tracks" and once peopled by Steinbeck's fabulous characters who bought vacuum cleaners even though they had no electricity, is now loaded with lush watering spots and restaurants designed to trap the passing tourists.

Can you believe it, at the Outrigger, one of the fancier traps, one can order a generous portion of chateaubriand flambeau for a paltry $12?

SINCE NEITHER of my teen-agers will hold still these days for the children's portion served on an attractive Mickey Mouse plate, we settled for New York cuts at the Jolly Roger in nearby Carmel, recommended, as the big-time columnists say.

Also recommended are the after-dinner apertifs at the Driftwood on Cannery Row, lorded over by genial Ag Shea old time rodeo roper who, in 1927, roped in a benefit show at the then Tamalpais Military Academy in San Rafael.

We spent the night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Farley in the house where Lincoln Steffens spent the last years of his life. Would not have been surprised to hear the old floors creaking under the weight of Steffens' spirit seeking some muck to rake, but he and I both slept peacefully.

Promised our host, incidentally, I would look in on his grandson, Tom Farley, a junior at Redwood High, to see if the kid is buckling down on the old three R's.

THE RACES being my reason for taking the trip in the first place, I insisted that my wife leave the quaint Carmel shops long enough for us to get out to the track for some action. It wasn't easy.

Felt certain I might convert her to a true-blue sports car afficianado once I could lure her into the pits for a sniff of petrol and the sight and sound of the Maserattis and Jags roaring into Turn Nine for their screaming take off up the straightaway toward start-finish.

I MUST SAY she looked one of the crowd, cute as a bug's ear in the accepted garb of flat-brim straw hat and dark glasses.

A full report from the children later, however, revealed that she slept through the big-bore main event, which is something akin to going to Cairo and not bothering to look at the pyramids.

Figure it may take a couple of more races weekends before she fully accepts my MG-5 as a way of life and not a gadget.

And, by the way, what IS chateaubriand flambeau?

Soviets Ignore Death Of Boris Pasternak Because They Fear Him

WASHINGTON — The Soviet newspapers and radio are studiously ignoring the passing of Boris Pasternak, Russia's great poet and novelist.

They know what they are doing. They are trying to shield the minds of the Russian people from his memory. They censored his living. They censored his dying. They are fearful that the stirring and unsettling influence of this talented and fearless man will be as great after his death as it was in his lifetime.

The Soviet dictatorship cannot keep the Russian people from thinking and it cannot keep individual Russians from thinking independent thoughts. But the dictatorship is determined to keep the Soviet people from having access to the independent thinking of other Soviet people and from the outside world.

THIS IS THE chief tool of the Kremlin dictatorship, this screening from every media of print and speech of nearly everything except what the regime wants its people to know and believe.

You can see how worried the Soviets must be concerning the state of popular opinion when you consider the lengths they went to smear the reputation of Pasternak and to try to immunize the Russian people from his influence.

He was no flaming propagandist. He was not advocating the overthrow of the regime. His great novel, "Doctor Zhivago," was not a propaganda novel directed against the government. Compared with the indictments of some aspects of American society in the works of such American authors as Upton Sinclair, John Dos Passos, Sinclair Lewis, and John Steinbeck, "Doctor Zhivago" was gentle and muted criticism.

BUT PASTERNAK was a free spirit, a radiant and independent spirit, a man who had such respect for the integrity and sovereignty of his individual fellow man that he had to speak out at the regimentation of his country.

"Doctor Zhivago" was the cry of a brave and honest soul against the betrayal of the Russian people's revolution against Czarist repression and the substitution of a more evil and pervading repression in its place.

Pasternak wrote mildly but without fear.

Evidently the Soviet dictatorship could not abide the mildest criticism because it is afraid of people who are without fear. Such fearlessness is catching. It could encourage others to think thoughts of their own, thoughts not entirely in the image and likeness of what the regime wishes to prescribe.

ALL THIS MAY shed some light on why Premier Khrushchev leapt at the opportunity to keep President Eisenhower from visiting the Soviet Union and having access to the minds of the Soviet people — as Mr. K. had access to the minds of millions of Americans.

Months ago, Alexander Kazanacheyev, a young Soviet defector, predicted that some means would be used to turn aside the Eisenhower visit. "The Soviet government," he said, "is not interested in allowing foreign guests, especially one as prominent as an American President, to penetrate the mental iron curtain."

Safeway Said To Be Surveying Possible Strawberry Store Site

NEGOTIATIONS in progress between Safeway Stores and Samuel R. Neider, principal in the Harbor Properties development on the Strawberry peninsula, may accelerate residential building in the area.

It is proposed to give Safeway 20,000 square feet of space for a market in the center portion of an unusual aluminum domed building such as those recently displayed by Kaiser Aluminum Co. in Russia. An additional 12,000 square feet is to be leased to other stores.

The structure along with three smaller domed buildings all finished in anodized gold, according to planning architect John Bolles, will form the nucleus of a shopping section to be known as Harbor Center which takes in an eight-acre triangle bordering the Redwood Highway south of the Alto intersection.

Contemplating a 20 year lease, Safeway made a survey of the area's potential, including existing Strawberry homes, and came up with an estimated $75,000 a week take by the proposed market.

Harbor Properties is part of the old Rancho Corte Madera del Presidio land grant and consists of four separate parcels. Harbor Point No. One, on the east side of the peninsula, is farthest along in development and includes the exclusive Harbor Point Beach Club as well as choice hillside and waterfront residential sites. Two other parcels — Harbor Cove and Harbor Vista—will be devoted to luxury apartments.

RONNIE'S CAMERA SHOP, newly opened at 789 Bridgeway Blvd., Sausalito, is an additional photographic supply store for Ronnie and Leona Buist, Tiburon residents for the past 14 years. They already have one camera shop at 115 West Portal, San Francisco.

The Sausalito store on the ground floor of the Village Fair will not only carry a stock of cameras and photo materials but is being equipped to handle commercial microfilm, blueprint and various types of copying service. Leona Buist will be in charge while Ronnie takes care of the San Francisco shop.

RIGHT NEXT DOOR and scheduled to open sometime this month is Brotman's Imports, dealers in fine Oriental screens, bronzes and imported are and gift items.

This represents a proposed change of location from the present store at 1330 Polk St., San Francisco which will be closed when the Sausalito spot is ready. Owner M. H. Brotman, a San Francisco resident who may or may not move his home to Marin, was previously in the same business eight years in Tokyo and 18 months in Honolulu.

UPSTAIRS in the Village Fair, the Littlest Angel juvenile shop has been taken over completely by Mrs. Joseph Hawkins of 28 Mann Drive, Kentfield. The store was formerly owned jointly by Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Sue Schall.

MARIN PERSONALITIES: New vice president for Consultants, Inc., San Francisco public relations firm, is John D. Carter, 574 Loganberry Drive, Lucas Valley. He joined the company is 1956. . . . Consultants, Inc. also announces that Gerald S. Noble, 16 Bayview Ave., Belvedere, has joined the staff as a senior account executive. Both men are married and each has three children. . . . Transfer for Dean O'Connor, San Rafael resident and former assistant manager of Penney's department store in Corte Madera, has taken him businesswise to San Francisco where he will manage fourth floor operations in that downtown location.

A NEW coin-operated laundromat will be installed on Grant Ave., Novato, across from the First National Bank by Fred and Robert Dickson of Kentfield.

According to Fred Dickson it will be completely automatic and require no attendant. Contemplated are 21 washers and eight dryers. Opening is not expected for at least 30 days.

The Dickson brothers are ranch operators in Sonoma County. This is their first laundromat venture.

Trampoline Center To Open Saturday In San Rafael

You may be flying through the air with the greatest of ease in San Rafael soon.

Saturday the Trampoline Center will open its doors at 836 Fourth Street in a building owned by Jack Zander.

The new center will be furnished with 27 official Amateur Athletic Union mats suspended over 40-to-60 inch pits by springs and bordered with a foam rubber-like substance.

Director of the new recreation center is Ken Warfield, who also directs the Lafayette Trampoline Center.

Warfield, 49, is a 30-year veteran of rebound tumbling. He is a former YMCA physical director, high school physical education coach and navy recreation director.

The center will be open seven days a week, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Homestead Plans Play Program

Homestead Valley Improvement Club members will solicit contributions from valley residents this weekend for a summer supervised play program for their children. They have set a goal of $700.

Bart Keavney, a teacher, coach and playground director from Monrovia, will supervise the nine-week program at the Homestead School. He will be assisted by Lowell Miller, Mill Valley recreation director.

William K. Gealey, club vice president, is organizing the subscription drive.

Cases Of Measles Climbing Again

Measles in Marin are on the climb again.

Fifty-five cases were reported for last week to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer, with 42 cases in San Rafael, eight in Larkspur, two in San Anselmo, and one each in Novato, Kentfield and Corte Madera.

Mumps are on the decline, with 18 cases reported, 15 in San Rafael, and one in Mill Valley, Kentfield, and San Anselmo.

One strep infection in San Anselmo also was reported.

Home Market To Mark Its 35th Anniversary

The 35th anniversary of Home Market in San Anselmo will be celebrated tomorrow through Saturday.

It is another milestone in the history of a family that has been associated with the food business in some form or manner for three generations.

Gabriel Franchini, founder of the market, came to this country from Italy 69 years ago as a boy of 14, accompanied by his sister. Their father had already preceded them and was a chef at historic Pastori's Restaurant in Fairfax.

It was in San Francisco that Franchini became involved in the meat, fish and poultry business. He was the first man in that city to run a chain of markets and they spread, five in number, from the Mission to the Richmond district. In 1925 he opened the Home Market in San Anselmo, retaining two of the San Francisco stores until 1945.

Today at 83, he takes a less active part in the business and it is conducted by his sons, Robert, Roy and William.

The firm of G. Franchini and Sons actually operates only the meat, fish and poultry departments. The grocery department is leased to Melvin Cervelli of San Anselmo, who has had it five years.

Mill Valley Dentist Pleads Guilty To Evading Taxes

Mill Valley dentist William F. Bortfeld pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court in San Francisco yesterday to two misdemeanor counts of failing to file income tax returns from 1954 through 1957.

Bortfeld was indicted in April on a charge including four counts of income tax evasion for the three-year period, during which the government alleged he had an income of more than $56,000. Two of the counts were dismissed.

He is scheduled to appear in Judge William T. Sweigert's court June 27 for judgement.

The usual pental for each count is a fine of not more than $10,000 and jail sentence of not more than one year, or both, said a district court spokesman.

Bortfeld resides on Hill Road, Ross.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, June 8, the 160th day of the year, with 206 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1869, American architect Frank Lloyd Wright was born.

In 1869, Ives McGaffey, Chicago, obtained a patent for his vacuum cleaner which he described as a 'sweeping machine."

In 1880, Republicans, meeting in Chicago, nominated James A. Garfield for president and Chester Alan Arthur for vice president.

In 1915, Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan resigned his office in protest against notes sent by President Wilson to the German government in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania.

A thought for today: American architect Frank Lloyd Wright said: "No house should ever be on any hill or on anything. It should be of the hill, belonging to it, so hill and house could live together, each the happier for the other."

Encourage Your Baby To Babble; It's His Way Of Learning Speech

Your baby can talk. Did you know that?

He doesn't use words, but he communicates. He tells you very clearly when he's angry, or uncomfortable. He is especially effective about 3 a.m. Right?

He also makes happy sounds. He pulls his mouth into an oval and coos at you.

His body gets tense with the effort. He lies back and goes "oo oo," or "ah ah." Before long he goes "ga ga," "ba ba," da da" and so on.

Eventually he discovers that sounds can be controlled. He may find that out when he's three or four months old. Or he may wait until he's eight or 9 months. From then on he really babbles.

Isn't it fun to listen?

I hope you talk to your baby, right from the start. Say 'hello" or "hi" when you come up to his crib. At mealtime cuddle him and tell him you love him. Tell him what a nice boy he is, while you are bathing him. He'll listen. He'll enjoy the sounds. He won't recognize your words, but he'll catch your meaning. After a while he'll try to imitate you.

You may not be able to interpret his sounds, but he's trying.

When will he start using real Speech comes so gradually. The brighter babies learn to speak earlier than the average ones, and the average ones earlier than the retarded.

If you talk to your baby and encourage him to babble, you'll help him.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "How can we make our son go to sleep peacefully? He is two months old. When we put him down he runs through a routine of pursing his mouth, clenching his fingers and wiggling his hips. It takes him several minutes to relax. When we try to prevent his routine he cries."

(A) Many babies develop habits which help them go to sleep. Some snort, some roll their heads against the side of their cribs, some wiggle, some sigh repeatedly. The habits are not harmful. Don't try to make him stop. Let him relax his own way.

Bay Area Man Emerges Top Rodeo Rider

Ron Bigon of San Francisco took home top money as all-around winner at Sunday's San Rafael Kiwanis Club Rodeo in Fairfax.

Bigon placed first in Brahma bull riding, second in calf roping and third in team roping. He and his roping partner, Jack Gomez, placed third in team roping with a time of 11.9 seconds.

The rodeo was the third annual sponsored by the San Rafael Kiwanis Club at the Circle V Ranch for the benefit of boys and girls work.

Everett Burton and Jack Martin of Redding placed first in team roping at 10 seconds; Wayne Williamson and Don Santos of Anderson second at 11.6, and Henry and Jim Kock, a father and son team from Redding, fourth at 14.9.

Phil Weston of Corning won the wild horse race and Barry Travie of Red Bluff took second place in riding Brahma bulls.

Weston also placed first in the saddle bronc; Jacqura Bettencourt of Modesto, second and Ron Husch of Wyoming, third.

Two Redding riders took top awards in the bare back bronc riding; Bob Bailey, first and Bob Baker, second. Pinky Perkins of Concord came in third.

In the bulldogging contest, Jim Rasmusson of Concord placed first; and two Redding men, Jim Summer and Dick Hempstead, came in second and third.

Calf roping winners were: John O'Donnell of Modesto, first; and Jerry Nichols of Cottonwood, third.

Three women winners in the rodeo took top honors in the barrel race; Linda Nichol of Redding, first; Bunny Brown of Modesto, second and Betty Van Allen of San Anselmo, third.

Philadelphia got its motto of "The City of Brotherly Love" from the ancient "Philadelphia Maneto," which translates into "Let brotherly love continue."

Registration For Summer School To End Saturday

Final opportunities for Kentfield parents to register their youngsters for summer session will be Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. at Greenbrae School, Principal George Renworth announces.

Registration for out-of-district children was closed last Saturday.

Total enrollment to date for Kentfield's first summer session is 390, Renworth said. To be held in the A. E. Kent School from 8 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. June 22 through July 22, the session offers 11 subjects. Six sections have been formed to teach developmental reading and physical education. There will be four sections of Spanish, natural science, woodwork skills and arts-crafts; three sections of play production and typing, and two each arithmetical analysis, instrumental music and sewing.

San Rafael Youth Writes Article For Church Magazine

Girls should go to college to receive needed preparation for wifehood and motherhood, a San Rafael youth advises in the July issue of Together, Methodist family magazine.

Don Baldwin, son of Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Baldwin of 111 Tamal Vista and a seminary student at Drew University in Madison, N.J., was one of four panelists who discussed the question of what to tell an 18-year-old girl high school graduate of outstanding achievement who decided against college because she wished to marry and raise a family.

"A young woman need not enter college thinking that she has to prepare for an occupation," wrote Baldwin. "Preparing to be an adequate wife and mother is reason enough!"

CALIFORNIA'S 'PONY GIRL'

DeAnne Garibaldi of Sutter Creek, who was graduated last week from Dominican College in San Rafael, has been chosen "Miss California Pony Express Centennial." She will compete with choices of the other seven states on the Pony Express route at a centennial celebration June 23-25 in Salt Lake City, with the winner "ruling" the re-run of the historic horseback mail route between Sacramento and St. Joseph, Mo., beginning July 19. DeAnne poses beside replica of Pony Express saddle at Waddell F. Smith's Pony Express Museum in San Rafael.

First 3R Graduation Rites Set

The 3R School will hold its first formal graduation ceremonies on Friday at 2 p. m. in its school building at 3833 Redwood Highway, San Rafael Meadows, with five high school students and 16 elementary students being awarded diplomas.

Diplomas will be presented by Joseph N. Heath, principal, after a brief graduation address by James W. Kirchanski, founder-director.

A reception will follow the ceremony honoring the graduates.

To receive high school diplomas are Gay Albanese, Oliver Douglas and James Hunt of San Rafael; Geoffrey Dunham of Kentfield and Carole Drake of Marinwood.

Two students were graduated from the 3R elementary division last June but no formal graduation ceremonies were held for them. They will receive their diplomas with the present graduating class.
